Nine Months Extension For NRA Voted By Democrats

AGREEMENT IS REACHED IN CAUCUS

Ignore Roosevelt's Desire for Two Year Extension of Recovery Act

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(UP)—Democratic senators today decided to go ahead with a nine-month extension of NRA, despite President Roosevelt's desire for a two-year continuation. Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson said the Democrats in a special conference had agreed that with only five weeks to go before the present act expires, it would be impractical to undertake a general overhauling of NRA at this time.

The conference also determined it would be impossible for the senate to conclude its work before July 1 to 15. Robinson later said he believed the president would accept the shorter extension in view of the shortness of time.

The conference was called primarily to consider the Clark NRA resolution, which is scheduled as the next business in the senate. It would extend NRA until April 1, 1936, would prevent regulation of intrastate industry and ban price fixing.

Senators Agreed
"Some senators expressed themselves as personally in favor of amending the resolution in certain particulars," Robinson said. "But all agreed that in view of the limited time between now and June 16, the date of expiration of NRA, that it is probably impracticable to do so."

The conference also agreed that it would be impracticable to attempt to incorporate the controversial Black 30-hour work week bill in the NRA legislation.

The conference considered the necessity of speeding up the work of the senate," Robinson said. "There was unanimous concurrence in the chairman's proposal that all members would cooperate as far as possible in contributing to that end."

Extend Session
"At best it is believed that the senate cannot finish its work prior to a date between the 1st and 15th of July."

"All senators would like to see"

$5134 Judgment Granted By Judge In Damage Suit

Charles M. Furuta, Wintersburg resident, was granted judgment of $5134 by Superior Judge James L. Allen yesterday after trial of his suit against Carl Randall and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Randall of South Pasadena. The plaintiff based his complaint on an auto accident, which occurred March 28, 1934, causing the death of his daughter, Nobuko, 15. He had sued for $25,347.53.

BEAUTIFICATION OF VACANT LOTS AND HIGHWAY PARKINGS PLAN OF S. A. CIVIC GROUPS

A CITY-WIDE beautification program, with vacant lots and highway edges being planted to flowers, so that Santa Ana may present a picture of a vast flower garden to tourists passing through the city to the Exposition at San Diego will be undertaken in the immediate future, under plans approved today noon by a representative group of service club members at James Cafe.

The group included representatives of the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions clubs and the Y.M.C.A., and the sentiment expressed was that all organizations should back up and support the Co-Ordinated Council, representing all civic organizations, in its work of organization of civic activities and in preventing duplication of efforts.

RETURNS HOME

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, returned to Washington today to be officially welcomed by President Roosevelt and Byrd's mother.

ADMIRAL BYRD IS WELCOMED BY PRESIDENT

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today, in an address of greeting to Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd at the Washington Navy Yard, described his Antarctic exploration as "an achievement of which the whole nation is proud."

The president went aboard Byrd's sturdy old icebreaking ship, the Bear of Oakland, to welcome him and his men on their return home.

The ship, bringing the expedition safely back from two years explorations, during which Byrd nearly perished while making observations alone at an advance base, tied up at the navy yard dock after a leisurely voyage up the Potomac to Washington.

"I salute you and your comrades and extend to all of you in behalf of the American people, a hearty welcome home," the president said.

LAST RITES FOR SEN. CUTTING
NEW YORK, May 10.—(UP)—Funeral services for Senator Bronson M. Cutting of New Mexico, killed last Monday in an airplane crash, were held today at St. James' Protestant Episcopal church. A distinguished group of United States senators, including many of the liberals with whom he was associated in Washington, attended the services as honorary pall bearers.

A complete survey of the city's organizations and their work, with a view to prevent overlapping of activities and in getting unified co-operation of all organizations in worthwhile matters, was favored, and efforts will be made to bring such a survey about, it was understood.

Veto Seems Certain For Bonus Bill

Huey Long Charges President's Action Leading Party to Slaughter

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(UP)—Huey Long charged in the senate today that President Roosevelt's refusal to accept the Patman bonus-inflation bill was "leading the Democratic party to slaughter."

As he spoke, telegrams were pouring into the White House urging the president to sign the bill.

Long said someone "ought to go down to the White House and tell the president to pay some attention" to messages.

But a veto still seemed certain and the Patmanites hunted vainly for enough senate votes to override the expected veto.

Long's tirade, branching off into a general denunciation of the president and his advisers, was expected to be futile as far as any effect on the senate line-up was concerned.

The telegrams started pouring in last night and by mid-morning it was estimated 5000 had been received.

Commander James Van Zandt of the Veterans of Foreign Wars had called for supporters of the Patman bill everywhere to deluge the White House with 1,000,000 messages.

The appeals were directed to the White House after senators had been bombarded with an estimated 100,000 telegrams, instigated largely by Father Charles E. Coughlin's attempt to rally support for the Patman bill.

White House officials seemed unmoved by the campaign. The only comment there was that the bill has not yet been received by the president and hence there is nothing for him to do about it.

Indications were that when and if the bill is delivered to him, the veto will be speedy.

Patman forces have kept the bill at the capitol following its passage by the senate while they engaged in an apparently futile effort to switch enough votes to override a veto.

BAER SHOOTING HELD ACCIDENT

ASBURY PARK, N. J., May 10.—(UP)—The case of blank pistol versus Heavyweight champion Maxie Baer was closed today when Prosecutor Raymond T. Bazley said his investigations convinced him that the affair was just what it was supposed to be—an accident.

"At first I was extremely skeptical," the prosecutor told the United Press. "So I had Investigator Charley Tate go into the matter. From his investigation and from my questioning of hospital attaches I am satisfied that Baer was burned with powder when a pistol containing a blank cartridge was accidentally discharged. I am also convinced that the pistol was in Baer's hand at the time. The case has been dropped."

Baer is no worse for the accident.

PREVAILING WAGE BILL IS HELD UP

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 10.—(UP)—Labor took a setback today because the prevailing hourly wage bill defining public works as including manufacture of fabricated materials remained in the senate and labor capital committee.

Proponents last night failed to obtain sufficient votes to move the bill to the floor. Representatives of capital and labor debated the merits of the measure, already passed by the assembly.

Amendments to the public works act, define it as including materials of special design or make according to specifications for the particular job, and declare any arrangement for such fabrication to be through "contract" or "sub-contract."

INVITATION SENT ROOSEVELT BY SAN CLEMENTE CCC BOYS, TO VISIT CAMP NEXT MONTH

AN INVITATION signed by the 226 members of the San Clemente CCC camp has been extended to President Franklin D. Roosevelt to stop for lunch at the camp en route to the San Diego exposition next month, it was announced today.

Camp Leaders expressed the belief that the president would accept the invitation, as he often stops at camps throughout the country when the occasion presents itself.

Since sending the invitation the members of camp 1945 have bent every effort toward making their camp a model of its kind. The troop is engaged in transforming a large area back of the sea bluffs at San Clemente into a recreation park for the public.

The San Clemente camp is one of the few in the country that is permanent, as the equable weather in the state does not necessitate moving camp in the fall, and returning in the spring.

FINAL ACTION OVER REVENUE BILL DELAYED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 10.—(UP)—Disagreements over methods of raising $44,000,000 for unemployment relief purposes caused the joint legislative steering committee to delay final action today on a revenue and taxation program.

The committee, after a conference with Governor Merriam, agreed that it had found a way to balance the 1935-37 budget and raise a surplus of $24,000,000. It decided to meet again Monday morning and select a plan for providing the additional $20,000,000 needed to balance federal requirements for unemployment relief.

Three suggestions were taken under consideration: an increase of one cent in the gasoline tax, a 3 per cent consumers' tax on utility services, and a 2 per cent tax on natural resources.

Adds $5,000,000
In voting today to levy a one per cent tax on real estate transfers, the committee added $5,000,000 to its previously approved tax program, bringing the total estimate of revenue to $109,000,000, $24,000,000 more than the members believe will be needed to balance the state budget.

Other items on the program would include a state tax on automobiles, in lieu of local personal property taxes; an increase in the sales tax to 3 per cent, with food exempted; a tax on liquor; an income tax, and increased franchise, inheritance and beer taxes.

Governor Merriam studied the program today and agreed with every point except the estimate of new revenue under the 3 per cent sales tax proposal. He said he believed a $35,500,000 increase, with food exempted, was "$35,000,000 too high an estimate." The committee stood its ground, however, and was supported by department of finance figures.

DEATH PENALTY PAID TODAY BY RAY HAMILTON

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., May 10.—(UP)—Raymond Hamilton, at 22, public enemy No. 1, died in the electric chair today, his nerve gone and a sob welled in his throat.

Hamilton, whose first crime was the theft of a toy wagon, paid with his life for that of Major Crowson, a prison guard.

Crowson was killed January 16, 1934, when Hamilton, Joe Palmer and three others escaped from Eastham prison farm in a spectacular delivery engineered by the late Clyde Barrow.

Hamilton followed Palmer, sentenced for the same offense, to the electric chair. His voice broken and his once grinning face a pasty white, he was strapped in at 12:19 a. m.

He turned to Father Hugh Finnegan, prison priest, and said: "I wish you a pleasant trip, Father."

He referred to the priest's projected vacation trip to Ireland. Breaks Into Sobs

Then he gave way to convulsive sobs, which the current stifled. He was pronounced dead at 12:26 a. m.

Seven minutes before Hamilton went to the chair Palmer was executed. Unlike the younger but more notorious killer, Palmer was calm. He read a 200-word statement which he had spent his last hours writing.

"I ask God to accept my ignoble death in atonement for my sins," he said. "So far as my death is acceptable to my God, I unite it to the sorrows and death of Jesus Christ."

Father Finnegan a few weeks ago baptized both men into the Catholic church. Like Hamilton, Palmer, before dying wished him "a pleasant trip."

Neither man alluded to the killing for which they were executed. Hamilton, however, said shortly before he died he did not shoot John Bucher, Hillsboro, Tex., merchant who was slain in a holdup and for whose murder Hamilton

Permits For Year Double Those Of 34

City Hall Permit is Issued to Ball & Honer by Inspector Today

BY WAYNE GOBLE
THE BUILDING permit for Santa Ana new city hall was issued today to Ball & Honer, general contractors, in the amount of $126,000.

The twenty-seventh residential permits for the year to date, which equals the entire record for last year, was issued to the same firm in amount, $4000.

This city's building permit total for the year today stood at $640,375, far exceeding any year since 1931.

These important facts stood out today as concrete evidence that Santa Ana's Progress and Prosperity is once more in the ascendency on the foundation of the 1935 building revival.

The builders of Santa Ana are at work once more.

The welcome sound of saw and hammer is music to the ears of all.

Concrete mixers chug away in merry fashion, making stone for foundations and for walls.

The Builders are again on the job, and an actual shortage of buildings trades workers impedes.

Re-employment in the building industry is here now, and with it comes a revival of activity and optimism which is being felt throughout the entire city.

Railroad cars and trucks are bringing loads of lumber, cement, and reinforcing steel.

Hardware stores are called on for nails, bolts, and builders' hardware.

Gravel, crushed rock and plaster sand fill many trucks en route to local building sites.

Increased pay checks are going to truck drivers, material handlers, supply workers, painters, plasterers, carpenters, and cement workers.

New pay checks are going to good workmen who for a time could not secure a job and were listed in the ranks of the unemployed.

These pay checks are finding their way to the grocer, the baker, clothing dealer, and candlestick maker, and a new spirit of progress and optimism fills the air.

U. S. NETTERS LEAD CHINA IN CUP PLAY

MEXICO CITY, May 10.—(UP)—The United States launched its 1935 campaign to regain the Davis Cup today by winning the opening two singles matches of the series with China. Bryan M. Grant Jr. of Atlanta and Donald Budge of Los Angeles scored the victories.

Bryan defeated Guy Cheng, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-2, and Budge turned back Sin Kie Kho, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2. The United States need only one more match victory to clinch the series and the right to play Mexico in the North American zone final.

BRITISH VISITORS INJURED
SANTA MONICA, Cal., May 10.—(UP)—Sir and Lady Evan Gwynne-Evans of Gloucester, Eng., were treated today for painful cuts and bruises inflicted when their taxicab was demolished in a collision with a truck and another car.

They were taken to the home of Nigel Bruce, British film actor, where their injuries were dressed.

ABYSSINIA AND ITALY PREPARE FOR CONFLICT

LONDON, May 10.—(UP)—Abyssinia and Italy seemed preparing for big war today in the ancient country between the Italian East African colonies and the mountain capital of Abyssinia, Addis Ababa.

Emperor Haile Selassie of Abyssinia, in an interview with the Addis Ababa correspondent of the London Daily Telegraph, announced that he would order general mobilization if Italy continued its war preparations.

"Ethiopia (Abyssinia) will never accept a state of unofficial war such as prevailed when Japan carried out in its operations in Manchukuo. We will immediately resist."

"I still hope that the League of Nations council at its meeting May 20 will move definitely toward a peaceful solution of our frontier dispute with Italy. But if not, and if Italy carries its military preparations farther, then we must mobilize."

A United Press dispatch from Addis Ababa said that the government protested strongly to the Italian minister against a speech made in the chamber of deputies at Rome Tuesday by Michele Lessona, Italian under-secretary of colonies.

Lessona charged Ethiopia with oppression of populations of various tribes, significantly said that Italy intended to force respect for its modern subjects against the Christians of Abyssinia, and held that Europe's "civilizing mission" was involved in the dispute.

Haile Selassie, protesting to Italy against this speech, said Abyssinia was not an anarchical nation and had not infringed the Italian-Abyssinian treaty of friendship. He protested particularly the charges that the Galla, Somali and Sidamo peoples had been barbarously treated.

Italy yesterday made representations to unnamed governments against supplying Abyssinia with arms, munitions and airplanes. Unofficial sources intimated the government would take a serious view of continuance of the flow of war supplies.

The London Daily Express reported as from its Brussels correspondent that Belgium was one of the countries to which Italy protested.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—(UP)—Sen. Millard E. Tydings, D., Md. clashing bitterly with Huey Long in the senate today, threatened use of other methods than words against the Louisiana.

BASRA, Iraq, May 10.—(UP)—Rebel tribesmen shot down a plane of the British royal air force today, killing its two occupants. Troops were sent to the scene, which is in middle Euphrates, where tribesmen have been fomenting an uprising.

MASS FLIGHT CENSORSHIP MOST RIGID

Whereabouts of Fleet Unknown to World; Expected at Midway

HONOLULU, May 10.—(UP)—The mass operations of the United States navy's air armada of 45 planes were so effectively cloaked today by a "wartime" censorship that apparently not even the theoretical "enemy" could find trace of the big bombers and scout ships which left Honolulu.

Obviously their objective was Midway Islands, isolated base 1200 miles from Honolulu, and one of the main links in the projected airway line from California to the Asiatic mainland. But almost 12 hours after the air fleet could have come to rest in the Midway Island anchorage, it was still "lost," operating under secret orders.

The situation was a triumph for censorship, and brought excited speculation from naval officers and civilians interested in the most extensive war games ever held by the navy.

Only One Report
The air fleet might have dropped down in the lee of some smaller and less known coral reefs, such as French Frigates Shoals. It might have come to rest under the protective guns of naval auxiliary ships. Only one report filtered through the censors. It was that the squadron would not reach Midway Island until tomorrow.

The planes took off from Pearl Harbor yesterday, bound for isolated Midway Island, 1,200 miles northwestward, in a spectacular mass flight phase of the United States fleet's gigantic war games.

Secrecy as deep as that attending start of the flight cloaked the unit's whereabouts today.

Indications were, however, that the planes would not reach Midway.

BANDIT TRIO GOES TO ELECTRIC CHAIR

JOLIET, Ill., May 10.—(UP)—Three convicted bank bandits and killers died in the electric chair at the old state prison today, steadfastly protesting their innocence and mumbling incoherent prayers.

They were: Fred Werner, 27, Rockford, Ill.; Arthur Thielens, 42, his brother-in-law, of Rockford.

John Huff, 32, Chicago. The three were convicted in circuit court at Ottawa two months ago of killing J. Charles Bundy, cashier of the Leona State Bank, in a holdup on January 16.

Two other men, Sheriff Glen Axline of Marshall county and township supervisor Charles Seipp of La Salle, were killed in a series of gun battles with the fleeing bandits.

Will Rogers Says:

BEVERLY HILLS, May 10.—(To the Editor of The Register:) As this editorial goes to press we have forty-five naval planes headed from Honolulu to the Midway Islands. This flight is not only going to be great training for the navy fliers, but it's going to drive millions of Americans to a geography. The reason they didn't send fifty planes was there is only room on the island for forty-eight. The way you tell a navy plane from an army plane is the naval planes are made to land on the land. And the army has the ones that are made to land on the water. These boys are getting over there pretty close to Japan. I look for the next Japanese maneuvers to be held off Catalina Island.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

Fire Follows Bursting Of Main Gas Line Near Beach

PHONE LINES DAMAGED AND FIREMAN HURT

As the result of the bursting of a large gas main near Newport Beach this morning, the supply of natural gas to the city of San Diego was interrupted for several hours. A telephone pole was burned and several lines damaged, a Newport Beach fireman received a broken leg, and two Newport Beach fire trucks were slightly damaged.

The blow-out occurred about 30 feet west of The Arches railroad underpass, on the San Diego line of the Southern California Gas company, about 4 o'clock this morning.

As the blow-out occurred, probably from a defective weld in the 12-inch steel pipe under 250 pounds pressure, dirt and rock were scattered over the highway and for a wide area, while one piece of concrete was thrown through the roof of the chlorination plant nearby.

The escaping gas immediately became ignited, creating a large blaring torch, which burned a telephone pole and its wires. Because of the absence of travel at that hour, no passersby were hurt. The blaring gas was stopped when a valve in the line was closed west of Newport Beach by gas company employees.

Two Newport Beach fire trucks responded to the call, when the blaring gas was ascending into the sky.

Eugene Swanson, fireman attached to Engine Co. No. 2, was riding on the rear end of the utility truck upon its return trip to the fire station, with Kenneth Johnson driving, and Assistant Chief R. J. Briscoe Jr. following in his car.

When Johnson applied his brakes suddenly while going at a moderate speed, Briscoe's fireman's boots became entangled for a moment preventing his applying his own brakes, the cars collided, breaking Swanson's leg and causing him to fall from the truck. Swanson was taken to St. Joseph's hospital for treatment.

Repairs to the gas line were proceeding today under direction of John Ott of Santa Ana, superintendent of repairs for the Orange county district and Earl Jinnett of Dana Point, superintendent of the San Diego line which supplies natural gas at wholesale to the San Diego Consolidated Gas and Electric company.

No interruption of domestic gas service at San Diego resulted, it was said, due to storage capacity at the southern city which supplied customers while the supply line was being repaired.

"FROZEN DEATH" TEST IS HALTED

HOLLYWOOD, May 10.—(UP)—

Plans of a young research chemist to perform a "frozen death" experiment on a sick dog were disrupted today by an order from the city humane department, forbidding Dr. Ralph Willard to attempt his revivification test.

The order was issued by Dr. C. C. Warn, head of the humane department, who said he had received numerous protests from "dog lovers."

He said the dog, which is suffering from an incurable ailment, would be destroyed by humane officers.

Dr. Willard, who has conducted the experiment successfully on guinea pigs, was surprised.

"I cannot understand why there should be any antagonism," he said. "Especially, since I put the animals to sleep with ether before freezing them. The method is painless."

FINAL ACTION OVER REVENUE BILL DELAYED

Improvements drew this comment from the governor:

"If you are going to take away institutional improvement money, I want the legislature to take the blame if anything happens."

He said overcrowded conditions in state hospitals constituted a serious problem. Committee members discussed the possibility of a special election to authorize short term borrowing or a bond issue to permit permanent improvements, but did not vote on the subject.

Members agreed that new taxes levied this year should carry an expiration date two years hence, permitting the 1937 legislature to readjust the revenue situation at that time.

an earlier conclusion, but it does not appear that this is probable."

Robinson said NRA legislation was the subject of "specific consideration," and some members expressed a desire to hold out for a two-year extension.

"However," he said, "a large majority took the view that this would be calculated to prolong debate and that it might endanger final action before June 16."

Several senators, he said, believed the intrastate prohibition might cause confusion, "but it was decided not to press an amendment modifying it or striking it from the resolution."

"There was discussion," he said, "of amending the resolution by incorporating the six-hour day bill, but it was recognized generally that it is impracticable to determine the issues in that bill in connection with the resolution."

Robinson said he informed the Democrats that unless "rapid progress" was made, week-end recesses would be discontinued "in the early future" and daily sessions of the senate would be lengthened.

There was no discussion of the soldiers' bonus or other legislation.

was sentenced to 99 years in prison.

Denies Murder

"I didn't do that Hillsboro murder," he said. "The man who did it is dead, and I wouldn't say anything anyhow."

At that point he choked and could not go on speaking.

Officers assumed Hamilton meant Barrow, his onetime associate in banditry, when he said "the man who did it is dead."

Barrow and his sweetheart, Bonnie Parker, were slain a year ago by officers who ambushed them on a highway in western Louisiana.

Today's executions attracted a crowd of more than 1500 persons to the gates of the prison. They were witnessed by 50 men, 14 of them members of the state legislature who sat nearest the chair.

When prison attendants turned the current through Hamilton's body they ended one of the most amazing criminal careers in the history of the southwest. Before he was condemned to death, Hamilton had amassed prison sentences totalling 363 years for crimes ranging from automobile theft, through bank banditry to murder.

MARVELS OF AQUEDUCT WORK SEEN BY GROUP FROM S. A.

By LOYAL K. KING

FOLLOWING an inspection trip to various points along the Metropolitan aqueduct from Banning to the Parker Dam site on the Colorado the officials of the city of Santa Ana and newspapermen are able to report after a two day trip through the area that of the 92 miles of tunnels that must be dug through the mountains, 67 miles, or 73 per cent of the tunneling already has been completed; that work all along the line is being completed in less than scheduled time with one exception, and that the whole system will be built at a saving of about 19 million under the estimated cost of 220 millions, already voted for it.

Those familiar with the construction camps of 10 or 20 years ago will marvel as much in the general changes that have been made in the camp life of the workmen as in the marvelous improvements in machinery.

Gone are the hard swearing, hard drinking roughnecks, who lived in squalor and fought at the drop of a hat. The modern camps are as neat and orderly as an army cantonment. The men are enjoying a youthful Americans, enjoying a well-balanced and generous diet, and provided with scientifically cooled sleeping quarters, medical service both for preventive diseases and for the hazards of employment, chiefly broken bones which are to some extent an unpreventable accompaniment of a construction job.

Engineering Marvels

The marvels of engineering are machines which move the earth and rocks from the passageway selected for the aqueduct and the machines which mix and place the concrete where it will service the purposes of man.

The methods and machinery for tunneling through rock show perhaps the greatest improvement. Instead of men with hammers and sledges who literally knocked the first holes through solid rock, a dozen men now mount a movable scaffold which is placed as close to the rock surface to be blasted as possible. With an air drill they proceed to drill two inch holes in the surface of the rock to a distance of about 4½ feet. Those who drill in the center of the rock face drill into it at an angle so that the holes all approach a common apex. If the rock outlined by these drill holes were removed a cone shaped hole would remain. When all the holes have been drilled and filled with dynamite, the center charges are exploded first. This procedure permits the forming of a hollow center in the tunnel face. The top outside charges are exploded next, and finally the bottom charges are exploded. All shots are fired in a few seconds.

The broken rock, known as muck, is now removed by a machine with a shovel at the front end, which rams into the pile of debris by moving back and forth along a track laid on the bottom of the tunnel. The machine lifts the shovel just enough to let the material slide over the back of the shovel and on to a moving conveyor belt which deposits the muck in small flat cars. Where it formerly required about eight hours to remove the rocks and dirt it now requires only two hours.

Rocks and materials are moved in and out of tunnels by electric engines that carry four thousand pounds of batteries. There is no mule work in any tunnel, only one on the entire project. On one large tunneling job the supervisor confessed to having in his possession a single wheelbarrow.

Braces Installed

After the blasted rock has been removed it may be necessary to support the inside of the tunnel with steel or wooden framework to prevent loose rock from falling into the tunnel. This is an expensive procedure, and for that reason it is cheaper to tunnel through solid rock than it is to tunnel through rock that is easily broken or already fractured into many small sections.

The tunnel is completed when the inside is coated with a layer of concrete from a foot to several feet in thickness. The form necessary to give the desired interior dimension of the tunnel is a collapsible affair. It is set up and the concrete is placed between it and the rock walls.

The tunnel concrete machine mixes the concrete and puts it into a piston. As the piston head moves forward the concrete is squeezed into a pipe and forced into the top of the tunnel from which it is permitted to slide to all parts of the space it is desired to fill. Whenever pressure is desired to force the concrete into pockets the pipe from which it is discharged is held into concrete already poured and under the pressure of the force created by the pistons flows to all pockets.

After 24 to 36 hours the inside form of the tunnel is collapsed and the form moved to a new section of the tunnel and again set up. For 14 days afterwards the concrete is kept moist by spraying.

Huge Ditches

Giant ditching machines dig the huge ditch necessary to carry the water through open country. Another machine packs the reinforced ditch walls and bottom with concrete as it slowly moves along at the speed of nine inches a minute or 45 feet an hour. The bottom of the ditch is 20 feet, while the width of the top is 45 feet. Each of the side walls of the ditch is 25 feet in width, added to the bottom of 20 feet, it means that a strip of concrete 70 feet long is being laid at the rate of 9 inches a minute.

To keep the water in the concrete so necessary to the proper curing of it from evaporating, the concreting is started at sundown and discontinued at seven in the morning when the entire night's work is sprayed with asphalt, which is in turn coated with whitewash to reflect as much of the heat of the sun as possible. Rock, sand and cement are mixed within easy trucking dis-

We are finally around the corner. Santa Ana has come back.

Today's city hall building permit issued by Building Inspector S. I. Preble was for $126,000, covering complete cost of the new three-story structure at Third and Main streets, including elevator and other recent additions to the original contract now awaiting approval of PWA authorities.

The twenty-seventh residence of the year will be built by Ball and Honer at 1126 South Ross street. It will be of frame and stucco construction and will cost $4000.

Two other modernization permits were issued yesterday, covering addition to residence at 821 South Van Ness street by Lafe Moore, and re-roof at 528 North Van Ness by Perry Miles, to cost $300, with Knox and Stout as the contractors.

The 1935 four-month record to May 1 was 250 building permits, total $494,657.

May's permits to date total $145,718, making a grand total for the year to date of $640,375.

Compare this with the yearly totals for the past four years, as follows: 1931, $910,582; 1932, $827,257; 1933 (earthquake year), $488,226; and 1934, $554,134.

An interesting fact disclosed by a perusal of the city's building permit figures is that the firm of Ball and Honer is the premier building organization of the city, being concerned directly in more than two-thirds of the building projects this year to date.

Ball and Honer are general contractors for the city hall costing $126,000. They are joint contractors with Therman Means in the high school job costing $288,965. In addition to these items, they are completing a $1050 business building for Ed Yost at 2309 North Main street and did a $2000 remodeling job for their own property adjoining the city hall now occupied by the Pep Boys.

And in addition to all these activities, the firm of Ball and Honer took out four residential building permits, two for themselves at 1314 Greenleaf and 1126 South Ross, one for Charles Hess at 1711 Heliotrope, and one for George Greag at 2109 North Flower.

The total of these Ball and Honer contracts is $439,515, more than two thirds of the entire year's building total to date of $640,375.

SCHOOL BOARD TO ACT SOON ON NEW BUDGET

Consideration of the school budget for the next fiscal year will be undertaken by the Santa Ana board of education within the next few weeks, as the governing body begins the arduous nights of toil with figures and estimates that must precede the initial filing of the official budget on July 1.

While it is still too early for school authorities to commit themselves as to budget matters, including the principal item of payroll, it is not expected that there will be any general changes in existing salary schedules, nor in the size of the teaching staff, so far as could be learned today. The board, two years ago, trimmed the school's sails to ride the economic storm.

Accordingly, City Superintendent Frank A. Henderson expects to recommend re-election of the entire present staff, of about 250 teachers, when the board meets at 7:30 this evening for the purpose of such election, he said today.

The only changes contemplated in the staff for next term were those authorized by the board last Tuesday evening, when several leaves of absence were granted, and several teaching contracts were terminated. Two of the latter, affecting teachers completing their third year on probation and about to require permanent status, will be replaced by new contracts, as the board has abandoned its policy of discharging three-year teachers to prevent them becoming permanent under the tenure law.

Salary matters, however, will not be considered tonight, but will await discussions of the budget at a later date.

Under the law, the budget must be filed by the board with the county superintendent of schools by July 1, and examined by that official by July 15. If changes are recommended, the local board must re-examine the budget by July 20, of July. Public hearings on the budget must start during the last week in August, and the budget must be finally adopted at a public hearing by August 10.

S. A. CLUB TO BE HOST FOR DISTRICT MEET

The Santa Ana 20-30 club will play host to clubs from throughout district number 5 next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at James cafe, when the district council of 20-30 clubs meets here, it was announced today. Following the council meeting a luncheon will be held, also at James cafe.

A handicap golf tournament is planned for Sunday afternoon at the Santa Ana country club, to which all members of 20-30 clubs are invited. All events will be handicapped, it was announced, and trophies are being given for all flights and classes.

Tuesday night the county meeting of 20-30 clubs will be held at the Santa Ana American Legion hall. Entertainment plans are being formulated, and will include professional dancers and entertainers from Hollywood and Los Angeles. Plans for the county dance to be sponsored by the club at the Valencia ballroom on May 18 will be discussed.

New members of the Santa Ana club announced today are: Herbert Hill, a transfer from Whittier; Fred Lamping, a transfer from Fullerton; Claude Gregory and Jack McCarty.

The 20-30 baseball club will play its first game in the inter-city league May 16 at the bowl, against the Southern Methodist Junior team. Ray Burns is manager of the ball team.

FARM WORKERS IN PROTEST ON WAGE RATES

Protesting against what were claimed to be too low wages in agricultural work in the county, a group from Orange county Workers clubs, comprised mainly of SERRA relief workers, met with J. T. Way, acting director of Orange county SERRA, in Birch park yesterday afternoon.

Spokesmen for the workers claimed that the people taken off relief rolls and sent into private work in the fields are unable to earn as much as they received in their SERRA budgets. Another protest lodged was because of the long distances the workers have to travel to their work.

Way told the workers that he knows of no reason why the agricultural workers cannot be helped by the relief agency if it is determined on an individual basis that they are in need. He pointed out that the workers should at all times seek to obtain as much work as possible, and then, if they are not able to earn enough to live on, they would be eligible for relief. Every case, he said, must stand on its own feet.

The protest came on the day before the deadline for agricultural workers registering with the National Reemployment Service in the postoffice building before they are taken off the relief rolls.

Charles Fallert, in charge of the NRS office here, reported that the offices were filled again today with relief workers who want to register for private work. Today is the last day that the workers can register without being separated from SERRA rolls, according to a decision reached by the SERRA committee.

Representatives of the group which met with Way will carry their protests to the SERRA committee next Tuesday.

CHANEY TELLS FACTORS BACK OF PREDICTION OF DEMOCRACY FALL AND RISE OF FASCISM

Citing the tremendous burden of debt, increasing taxes and other alarming economic features as the nation starts its sixth year of a relief program that already has spent $11,500,000,000, Homer Chaney, Santa Ana banker, told a night school audience in Willard auditorium last night that economists are predicting a form of Fascist government in the United States as the next step, unless the Democratic state is willing and able to come to the rescue.

Forty-four per cent of American homes, he said, do not measure up to the common comforts and decency of American standards, lacking such conveniences as plumbing and electricity; some of our large cities have the worst slums in the world, a fourth of their population living in tenements; 80 per cent of our resources are pledged for debts; one-third, or 20,000,000 of our workers are unemployed; government expenses are constantly increasing.

There is a growing strength of minorities whose political power is being felt; the government is going more and more into business; and there is an alarming decrease in the birth rate.

These are the factors, the speaker cited, which cause economists to predict the fall of Democracy, unless rescue is effected by the government.

Leadership, important "This," he said, "makes us realize the importance of political leadership, because our economic future will be determined by our political future."

Chaney outlined the four main characteristics of the capital system, which he said has been built upon the theory that, through the law of averages, business will, however, to shrewd competition and keen business ability, many of the small producers and resulting in four things: monopolies, including both labor and capital; nationalism; the highest degree in history; unstable money; and recurrent crises.

"Thus the system seems to be breaking down of its own weight, unless the government in some way regulates it," Chaney declared. The results of these breakdowns, he added, is the more tragic because the extensive division of labor has made us so interdependent that the government must intervene to save life.

Helpful Measures Chaney gave a clear analysis of the Federal Housing act and PWA, which he indicated were helpful measures in the present crisis.

The housing act, he said, has three phases in section 1, of importance. One makes it possible for banks and other large companies to make individual loans, because the government guarantees 20 per cent of the loan. Another enables us to borrow 80 per cent of the value of our property, with 20 years to pay off the loan. The third permits formation of large mortgage and insurance companies to be formed by the government.

The housing act, said Chaney, definitely offsets one of the main causes of frozen assets, which was largely due to lack of adequate long-term financing.

In PWA, he said, there is an effort by the government to divert some of the nation's capital from production of consumptive goods into production of permanent goods, such as dams, highways and other public improvements. By doing this, said the speaker, the government will be increasing the buying power of the public, through wages, without flooding the market with consumptive goods.

Last night's lecture was the second of a series scheduled by Chaney on the Willard lecture course. He will deliver the third lecture next Thursday evening, on the subject, "The Probable Trend in the Future."

Bickford Rites To Be Held Saturday

Funeral services for Cecil Bickford, 40, who died yesterday at his home at 316 East Camille street, will be held at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning, from the Harrel and Brown mortuary. The Rev. John T. Stivers will officiate, with interment to be in Fairhaven cemetery.

Mr. Bickford, who had lived in Santa Ana for the last two years, had been ill for that length of time. He is survived by his mother.

Legion Post In Tribute To Mothers

Eight Gold Star Mothers of Santa Ana were honor guests at last night's mothers' dinner, sponsored by the Santa Ana American Legion post, at the Legion hall. Mothers of members of the post were included as honor guests for the occasion, which is given annually by the post.

The meeting opened with a series of songs by Bob Brown, in honor of the occasion. He sang "Mother o' Mine," "Mother Machree," and for an encore "Auld Lang Syne." The featured address of the evening was given by the Rev. Perry Schroeder, who talked on the "Meaning of Mother's Day," and paid special tribute to those mothers who had lost their sons in the World War. Mother Fanny Reeves was introduced by Commander Bert Casteln, and in turn introduced the honor guests.

Seated at the honor table reserved for the Gold Star Mothers were the Mesdames Myrtle Stull, Mary Croal, Jennie Elliott, R. Kellogg, I. Sharp, Vera Suduth, A. Lamb and R. Schroeder.

Police News

Paul Rez, 825 North Parton, has reported to police the theft of his bicycle from a point near Fourth and Main streets yesterday.

Theft of 20 chickens from the Joe Fuentes place at Olive was reported yesterday to the sheriff's office. The hens, mostly Rhode Island Reds, were carried through a barley field to the Santa Ana canyon road after the thieves had cut the wire of the pens.

The killing of several ducks by dogs, and the recovery of others which were believed stolen, was reported by Deputy Sheriff Steve Duhart of the farm detail yesterday, who investigated the case as reported by Frank Rogers, owner of the ducks, who lives at West Chapman and Euclid avenues in the Garden Grove district.

Frank Anderson, 21, of route 1, Anaheim, was booked at the county jail yesterday on a drunk driving charge by Chief of Police James Bouldin of Anaheim.

Recovery of a 1934 automobile stolen from Mildred Mauerhan of route 4, Anaheim, was reported to local officers yesterday by Chief of Police James Davis of Los Angeles. The car, completely stripped, was recovered at Van Nuys, according to the report.

Theft of $46 in bills was reported to the sheriff's office yesterday by Matataro Madokoro of the Hellman ranch. Madokoro reported the money was taken from his room during the night.

Juan Garcia and Librado Alonzo of Orange, charged with arson in the burning of a home west of Santa Ana on April 22, were taken before Justice K. E. Morrison yesterday and their preliminary examination was set for May 16 at 9:30 a. m. Bail was fixed at $5000 each.

Seven Amanda Bickford of Santa Ana; seven brothers, Edgar, Clarence, Ralph, Willett and Arthur, all of Santa Ana, George of Des Moines, Ia., and Frank of Saco, Mont.; and four sisters, Mrs. Eva Blackmore of Winchester, Calif., Mrs. Myrtle Whitmore, Mrs. J. J. Kelley and Mrs. Ruth Harrison, all of Santa Ana.

DISTRICT MEET OF M. E. WOMEN ENDS SESSIONS

Installation of officers and adoption of resolutions yesterday afternoon brought to a close an annual meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary society of San Diego district Methodist churches, held all day in Santa Ana First Methodist church, with 125 delegates in attendance.

Mrs. C. R. Montague of Fullerton was re-elected to the office of president. Others installed were Mrs. N. H. Button, San Diego district Methodist churches, Mrs. Roby Jones, San Diego, treasurer; Mrs. S. R. Fitz, Garden Grove, recording secretary; Mrs. L. S. Sedgwick of Long Beach, conference president, was installing officer.

Resolutions adopted expressed endorsement of the peace movement; disapproval of chain lettering and lotteries. Mrs. H. C. Chapman of this city, conference recording secretary, was chairman on resolutions.

Calexico delegates were winners of the $5 award to the auxiliary traveling the greatest number of miles and responding to roll call.

Secretaries and chairmen installed were J. A. Bodman, Newport Beach, young people's work; Mrs. W. B. Snow, Santa Ana, deaconess work; Miss Lulu Thornburg, Orange, junior work; Mrs. Ernest Stone, Fullerton, conference members; Mrs. Sarah Hutchins, Santa Ana, spiritual life; Mrs. A. Leroy Grimm, Fullerton, missionary education; Ethelyn Crow of San Diego, mite box secretary; Mrs. Floy Randall, La Habra, supplies; Mrs. O. E. Steward, Anaheim, David and Margaret home; Mrs. F. W. Wiesseman, Santa Ana, Spanish work; Mrs. Theo Winbiger, Santa Ana, Yuma Indian work.

Other features of the afternoon included a talk by Mrs. A. G. Scudder, Bureau secretary; Japanese songs by Lily Yoshimi, accompanied by Verna Osborn; vocal solos by Lynwood Young, accompanied by Mrs. W. B. Snow; playlet by the Anaheim auxiliary. Noon luncheon was served under direction of Mrs. B. A. Knudson and a committee from the local Methodist church. Mrs. L. R. Lutes, president of the local W. H. M. S., was hostess.

YOUTH GIVEN PROBATION IN VALENTINE CASE

Walter G. Parker, 22, Santa Ana youth charged with the death of his fiancée, Charlotte Valentine, 16, victim of an asserted illegal operation, today was granted probation for three years by Superior Judge James L. Allen.

No punishment was attached to the probation order. The court followed a recommendation of the county probation department, after hearing testimony from Parker. The probation department's investigation, as reported to the court, showed that Parker had had no connection with arranging the operation which caused the girl's death last February 14. The girl's mother, it was stated, had absolved the youth from blame for her death. Parker and Miss Valentine had obtained a marriage license on January 31, four days before the operation was alleged to have been performed. The reason they had not married, it was explained, was that Parker was unemployed, so they decided to delay the marriage.

In granting probation, the court commented that while there were features of the case not to be approved, he felt that Parker had done his best to mend his mistakes.

A. Hunaq, of La Habra, charged with possession of firearms by an alien, namely an innocent-looking pocket knife which officers said concealed a pistol barrel from which 22 calibre bullets could be fired, today pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge Allen. Trial was set for May 21 at 10 a. m. in Judge Allen's court.

Sylvester Perez, charged with assaulting Ralph Solis of Colonia Independencia, near Anaheim, with a deadly weapon, a knife, withdrew his plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty to simple assault. He then asked for probation. Hearing was set for May 17 at 10 a. m.

Edwin Thatcher, of Gardena, convicted with his father-in-law, Malcolm Hughson, of stealing a team of horses last March 17 from K. Yamashita at Laguna Beach, was granted probation for three years. Thatcher said he had accompanied Hughson and Ira Sprague, of Los Angeles, Hugh-son's employer, when Sprague told them he was going to "reclaim" the team, which he had earlier sold to Yamashita. On the way to Laguna Beach Sprague said he was going to steal the team but Thatcher thought he was joking, he said. Thatcher's wife, the court was informed, will become a mother this month. Hughson's probation hearing was postponed today to May 24. Guadalupe Ramirez pleaded not guilty to a charge of possession of firearms by an alien. His trial was set for June 5 in department three of the court.

to interest Orange county in a third party, which is expected to draw liberal forces of California under the banner of the Farmer Labor party of Minnesota and the LaFollette organization of Wisconsin. Shoemaker, who boasts of having gone from Leavenworth prison to congress, has been selected to rally western forces into the planned amalgamation.

Among speakers who have been booked for early appearances at the forum, which is held in the Unitarian church, Bush and Eighth streets, are Robert Noble and Kirby Page. Noble is accused by opponents of being an emissary in Los Angeles of Senator Huey P. Long. Page, as editor of the Nation and writer on economic subjects, is well known.

Mojave Chapter To Meet Monday

FULLERTON, May 10. — The final meeting of the season of Daughters of the American Revolution, Mojave chapter, is slated for Monday at the home of Mrs. William H. Bates, Valley View boulevard, Yorba Linda, where election of officers will feature the business meeting. Annual reports are to be given.

Mrs. Bates will be assisted by Mrs. Irene Jarvis, Varrie Adams and Nancy Lee Carmichael in hostess duties.

JAYCEE PAPER ISSUES ANNUAL FIESTA EDITION

Bearing its customary distinction as a triumph of the printing craft, and filled from cover to cover with brilliant and interesting contributions, including the pictorial, the Fiesta edition of El Don, Santa Ana Junior College's official organ, was issued today.

La Edición De La Fiesta, at "diez centavos la copia," gave promise of being in eager demand among friends of the college as well as the students. It is the work of Editor Jack Pegues, graduating sophomore and Register correspondent, with his staff, including Charles Downie, associate editor; Walter Handick, business manager; and John Rabe, advertising manager. The publication was issued under the direction of John H. McCoy, journalism advisor, and Thomas E. Williams, printing advisor.

Special articles by Pegues, Edward Almsworth, Mona Summers Smith, Mrs. Eleanor Northcross, Downie and Marion Parks are included.

The edition also includes prize winning essays on the topic "Why I Like Junior College." Winners are John Rabe, first prize of $5; Stanley Wilson, second prize, $3; and Charles Downie, third prize, $2. Prizes were donated by the Jaycee newspaper.

Class Confirmed At Church May 26

ORANGE, May 10.—A class of boys and girls, graduates of the St. John's Lutheran church school, will be confirmed May 26, according to the pastor of the church, the Rev. A. C. Bode. There are 21 members of the graduating class. A school picnic is to be held June 13 following the close of school on June 12.

H. S. LATIN CLUB HOLDS QUADRENNIAL BANQUET; FOLLOW OLD ROMAN STYLE

Latin club members of the Santa Ana High school last night celebrated the club's every-four-year's banquet in the school cafeteria. The event was unique in that the entire affair was typically Roman. Members had to eat with their fingers while lying down. The menus were written on scrolls, while the participants were required to wear Roman costumes.

This banquet is given by the club every four years at which time only members of the club and special guests are invited.

Last night's feast included as its main course "snails." This was in itself an unexpected surprise because the "snails" were in reality gum drops inserted in small shells. Other courses included humming bird tongues, "wine," apples, eggs, nuts, boar's head, and chicken.

The program consisted of group singing and dance numbers by various club members. The "Dance of War" was performed by the Misses Ione Hooven, Jean Munro, Jean Russick and Marcelle Shanafelt, while the "Green Dance" was performed by the Misses Katherine Eklund, Zlypha Matthews, Roberta McKnight, Betty Munson, Dorothy Norwood, Peggy Paxton, Phyllis Knock and Helen Myers.

Winifred Crist played the professional march on his trumpet, while toasts were given by Tom Trawick and the Misses Audrey Granas, Ione Hooven, La Vonne Frandson. Those who presided during the evening's entertainment represented characters famous in Roman history.

Guests included Principal D. K. Hammond, Lynn H. Crawford, Mrs. Mabel Budd and Miss Anna Trythall. Miss Josephine Arnoldy is the club advisor.

State Park Camp

Featuring the newly rejuvenated "Melody Kings," who have increased from a 10-piece to a 15-piece orchestra, Amateur night was held here Wednesday evening. Many enrollees who heretofore had been hiding their talent under a bushel were given a chance to display their wares, and did they make a hit? "Midge" Grainer, versatile master-of-ceremonies, kept the audience roaring. The recreation hall was packed to capacity and quite a few notable residents of San Clemente were present.

The orchestra played many popular tunes including their own arrangement of "Blue Prelude." Singers on the night's program were: Enrollees Bill Hatfield, who sang "Isle of Capri"; Tom Henry, "The Voice in the Old Village Choir"; Joe Williams, "Between the Devil and the Deep Blue Sea"; Joe Paellas, "Champagne Waltz"; and "Kiss Waltz"; and Clark Baggerly crooner de luxe, "Sweet Music," and in honor of Mother's day, "Mother." Bud Sevaas played two numbers on his electric steel guitar.

As soon as the "Melody Kings" get a little more practice, it is hoped to be able to have a dance here in the near future.

Because of his knowledge of adobe brickwork, Win L. Keerl, who had been foreman in charge of the brick yard and tile work at this camp, has been transferred to Camp Santa Rosa SP-29 near Lompoc. The work being carried on at the camp is the restoration of the La Purissima mission. In the place of Mr. Keerl, Oscar Edwards, foreman from Camp Santa Rosa, started work on May 6.

4-H CLUBS PLAN BALL GAMES
LA HABRA, May 10.—A rabbit fry and baseball game is being held by the La Habra Cackle and Root 4-H club of boys, under the leadership of R. E. Launier, on May 13, at Irvine Park. Members of the West Orange boys 4-H club, under the leadership of H. J. Richards, will be guests of the local club. The baseball game is scheduled for 5:30 o'clock at the park. This will be the first game in the league schedule between 4-H clubs of the county.

Following the game a rabbit fry will be held. It is expected that more than 40 boys with their parents will attend this event.

MISS HUSCROFT IS HONOREE AT SHOWER AFFAIR

ORANGE, May 10.—One of the loveliest affairs of the season was a pre-nuptial shower given Thursday afternoon in honor of Miss Martha Huscroft, who is to be married in June to James Krueger of Los Angeles. The party was held in the spacious North Glassell ranch home of Mrs. Ray Krueger Jr., who was assisted as co-hostess by Mrs. Lenora Krueger of Villa Park.

A pink and white motif was carried out in the floral decorations and in the refreshment course. Tables were laid in pink and white, centered with white tapers on which were tied small clusters of orange blossoms. Pink hearts centered the individual ice cream moulds and French pastries. The game of hearts provided diversion for the afternoon, with prizes going to Mrs. Clifford Miller and Miss Anne Huscroft, the successful players.

A feature of the afternoon was the presentation of gifts to the bride-to-be by little Miss Joan Krueger, daughter of Mrs. Lenora Krueger. Those invited other than the honoree, Miss Martha Huscroft, included Mrs. Anna Krueger, mother of the bride-to-be; Mrs. W. A. Huscroft, mother of the bride-to-be; Mrs. Elsie Ehlert, Miss Ruth Ehlert, Mrs. Carrol Krueger, Miss Wilma Huscroft, Miss Anne Huscroft, Mrs. Bertha Bandick, Miss Edna Bandick, Mrs. May Dwyer, Mrs. Louise Dwyer, Mrs. Lucile Weatherwax, Mrs. Leah Krueger, Mrs. Lena Tucker, of Orange; Mrs. Bertha Entener, Mrs. Olive Utecht, Mrs. Ida Drason, Mrs. Anita Sackerson, Mrs. Lena Morrell and Mrs. June Manard of San Pedro; Mrs. Eva Miller and son Lyle of Rosemead; Mrs. Mattie English, Miss Alda English, Mrs. Harold English, Mrs. C. W. Raney of Santa Ana; Mrs. Ray Valentine of Corona; Mrs. John Booge, Mrs. H. S. Krueger of Anaheim.

300 PRESENT FOR COUNTY WIDE GATHERING OF O. E. S. MEMBERS

ORANGE, May 10.—Two grand officers, Mrs. Winnie Dean, grand Ruth, of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Inice Orton, deputy grand matron, of Huntington Beach, shared honors with officers of Eastern Star chapters of Orange county at a county wide event held at the Masonic hall last night with Mrs. Gwendolyn Thompson, associate matron, of Scepter chapter of Orange, in charge. More than 300 were present.

Mrs. Lillian Edwards presided at a short business meeting and following the introduction of guests, a program was presented. Numbers included selections by the Lyric trio, Mrs. Walter F. Kogler, Mrs. Jean DesLarzes and Mrs. A. D. Burkett. Mrs. Margaret Ockles was the accompanist. Miss Pauline Thompson played a group of violin numbers accompanied by Mrs. Audrey Peterson, and Miss Doris Howell gave a group of readings. Marimba solos were played by Miss Esther Thomas, who also played for the

CLUB TOLD OF CONDITIONS IN MEXICO TODAY

ORANGE, May 10.—The history of the Mexican people from earliest records to modern times was discussed before members of the Imperial Lutheran church Men's club last night by Dr. W. S. Tupper of Whittier college, at a regular meeting of the organization. Dr. Tupper told of the difficulties which have beset the people of Mexico and of their church problems. Following the lecture motion pictures of Mexico were shown.

A. F. Pargue, vice president of the club, presided in the place of Louis Koth, president, who was unable to be present. Dinner was served by members of the Ladie Aid society and dart ball closed the evening's entertainment. Music was furnished by the men's quartet of the church, Julius Kuesel, Ralph William Shannon, Martin Danner and W. F. Kietke. E. T. Pringle, director, was the accompanist.

PROGRAM HELD BY EL MODENA UNION

EL MODENA, May 10. — Mrs. R. W. Jones gave a parliamentary drill as a part of a program presented at a meeting of the W. C. T. U. held this week in the home of Mrs. John Turner, and readings were given by Mrs. Amanda Jessup and Blanche Campbell. Mrs. Turner read a poem. Mrs. Harry L. Skiles and Mrs. Turner sang two duets. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Those present were Mesdames Etta Adams, Mamie Hill, W. A. Settle, A. O. Hodson, R. W. Jones, Ethel Brickley, Harry L. Skiles, Frances La Monica, Luther Barnett, Cornelia Winters, Blanche Campbell, Amanda Jessup, Cora Nickerson and the hostess, Mrs. Turner.

SEEK TO CONTINUE CONCERTS OF BAND

ORANGE, May 10.—Plans are being made to continue the SERA band concerts which have been given here for the past four Friday evenings and arrangements will be completed tonight for the extension of the program. According to A. H. Heim, city councilman and head of the park commission, an effort will be made to have the concerts which have been largely attended, given on Saturday nights rather than on Friday nights.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind the News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

PREDICAMENT

The Roper business council has always been alternately in hot or cold water, but just now it is in its hottest. You might say it is immersed uncomfortably in a scalding quandary.

This collection of business men is supposed to advise the New Deal, not harshly, like the chamber of commerce, but constructively, like an elder brother. It has spoken on the NRA and social security phases in a mildly remonstrating, but loving, tone.

On one thing it has been dumb—the utility holding company bill. It has prepared a report on that subject, but the inside dope is it is afraid to make it public. Those inside say the report was largely suggested by the head of a New York bank, who thinks the administration bill is worse than bad.

The tone of it is supposed to be more like that of an irate father who feels he must not spare the rod.

FLUSHING

The Republicans have got wind of the report and are trying to flush it out into the open. They are also interested in forcing out another private council report, in reference to the banking bill, which is supposed to be equally critical.

This is what is behind the innocent little resolution which capable Senator Steiwer dropped into the Senate hopper almost unnoticed a few days ago. The Steiwer resolution calls for all reports of the council to be submitted to the Senate, where they would, of course, be published.

The liberals of the administration have the scent also and are working to get the reports modified or revised, and they may succeed. It is highly important because of possible influence on two big pending items in the New Deal legislative program.

LAST WORD

Statesmen usually treat statesmen in political debate as if they were all in a drawing room. An exceptional incident occurred at the recent private conference of cabinetiers and congressmen in President Roosevelt's office. Be it recorded for all time that Secretary Perkins failed on that occasion to have the last word. It happened this way:

Miss Perkins spoke up in favor of extending NRA codes to cover intra-state as well as inter-state business. She pointed out that modern business has become so complex that it cannot be regulated effectively if only interstate commerce is subjected to regulation.

A minute or two later, scholarly Senator King of Utah arose and observed politely but firmly that some bureaucrats were not content with the wide powers they possess over national affairs but apparently wanted to invade the states as well. He did not mention any names, but there was no necessity.

Mr. Roosevelt is supposed to have stepped in and oiled the waters.

LEADERSHIP

A story which did get out at the time of the White House conference was the one about Mr. Roosevelt twitting his Senatorial Leaders Robinson and Harrison, for legislative delays. The story is true, but not important.

The inside on that situation is that the White House is working now in better understanding with its congressional leaders than ever before. Some little personal reservations which existed during the first two years of the New Deal have now largely disappeared. The President believes both Robinson and Harrison have done excellent jobs.

SMOTHERING

The New Deal liberals are tearing out their shaggy locks in anguish because the Senate audit and control committee has failed to act on the Wheeler resolution. This resolution proposed a $25,000 senatorial inquiry into railroad financing. It was approved by the Wheeler committee, but since then has rested for a solid month in the conservative audit and control committee without action.

The liberals are going around saying the railroads are trying to smother the investigation. They even mention a particular railroad.

There is no question that the audit committee has taken an unusually long time. Unless it acts shortly, a liberal senator may take the floor and make some charges against the committee. You can bank on it that the resolution will ultimately be adopted by the senate.

NOTES

A certain western congressman signed up as a committeeman to attend the funeral of Senator Cutting, assuming it would be held in New Mexico. He resigned from the committee when he found out the funeral would be in New York.

The latest expose of Washington is the saddest of yet. It is a book called "Faintout," evidently written by someone passing through Washington on a sight-seeing trip. It is such an inaccurate exposure of the New Deal steps to promote favorable propaganda that was saying the Democrats wrote it themselves to belittle the issue.

In the list of publishers' over stocks sent out by the Union Library association in New York is the tome of Mrs. Roosevelt: "It's Up To The Women." The autographed copies which originally sold for $5 can be had now for $2.45.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

Now that the Supreme Court has nullified the rail pension act the victory has lost its savor for the railroads. The stock market's reaction to it was an accurate measure of importance. With 50 Class 1 roads unable even to earn operating expenses and taxes in the first quarter of 1935, the saving on pensions—while duly appreciated by harassed managements—is actually about as much help as a lone peanut to a hungry elephant.

Moreover the legal triumph was worse than hollow in two respects. One is that Congress has time to try again before adjournment—and probably will do so. The Brotherhood's efficient lobby will turn on the heat for a new pension bill framed to surmount the objections raised by the court. From that angle the roads would have been better pleased if the decision had been postponed until Congress showed signs of going home. They now figure they will have to go through another legal contest and another long period of uncertainty as to where they stand.

The second trouble is that the sixty million dollar pension saving makes it much harder for the roads to put over the wage cut proposal they claim they urgently need. Their hopes of gaining public support for this move are dispelled at the outset. Rail men generally feel that they have won a battle and lost a war.

DEPENDS
New Yorkers were more intrigued by the implications of the new Supreme Court line-up on rail pensions than by the decision itself.

Justice Owen Roberts has roused new hope among right wingers. He not only switched to the conservative wing but acted as its spokesman. Hitherto he has invariably sided with liberals Hughes, Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo on crucial five-to-four divisions. His opinion may be the decisive factor in vital tests still ahead—notably on NRA.

Some astute observers believe the future fate of the New Deal depends enormously on whether his conversion is permanent. The terms in which he phrased the majority's views in the pension case indicate that possibility.

FRUIT

The Federation of Labor will use the auto strikes—despite Bill Green's public confirmation of our statement that they were not originated or directed by the Federation itself—to try to force action on the Wagner bill. The big question is whether FDR can be maneuvered into taking a definite position on the measure. The steel strike threat last year failed to corner him on this issue—he sidestepped by forming the National Labor Relations Board. Insiders predict he will not find it so easy to escape a showdown this time—especially with other labor disputes in the offing.

You might think the Chamber of Commerce attitude would lead the President to accept labor's viewpoint on the question—but don't take that for granted. He will continue to play with Roper's Business Planning and Advisory Council and this group—while splitting with the Chamber on NRA extension—is strongly opposed to the Wagner bill. Both the Council and the unions will put everything they have on the ball to win a commitment from the White House in their favor.

The Federation of Labor's endorsement of the President's NRA proposals goes far towards healing the wounds left by the auto code renewal. The Chamber of Commerce is directly responsible for the reconciliation. New York conservatives fear this may lead to a still closer tie-up that would give industry more to worry about than ever. They caustically hope the Chamber is pleased with the fruit of its outburst.

REALIST

Keen observers credit Father Coughlin—or his advisers—with a neat stroke. They point out that a number of administration supporters in the Senate were known before last Sunday—to be ready to back the Patman rather than the Vinson bonus bill—for the reason that a veto of the former would be easier to sustain.

So when Coughlin urged his listeners to deluge Congress with telegrams urging the Patman bill he was playing smart politics. Not only was he riding the horse with the best chance to win. He was putting himself in a position to claim kudos for influencing votes to be cast for the Patman bill by Senators who would be expected to oppose it on its merits—even though their support for it traces to an entirely different motive.

Comment runs that there must be political realists in the Coughlin camp.

AMBITIONS

Vito Marcantonio—New York Congressman who helped ringlead the Third Party conference of 75 leftist legislators—is a friend of Mayor LaGuardia and represents the Mayor's former Congressional district. Ben Howe, chairman of the New York Fusion party, also sat in.

The Mayor's policy in city affairs has been more conservative than most people expected. But insiders understood he still cherished bigger ambitions—and it's a cinch that neither Republicans nor Democrats will ever nominate him for national office. The point is worth bearing in mind.

PROTECTION

Godeaux Sugar has worked out a new wrinkle in connection with its forthcoming $3,000,000 bond issue. The company has entered into an agreement with its chief executive, financial and accounting officers and its directors to indemnify them against certain types of civil liability and the expense thereof arising from their obligations under the Securities Act because of the company's registration statement and prospectus.

Not only that. The American Appraisal Company (which valued the issuers' assets) and Halsey Stuart & Co. (which heads the underwriting syndicate) are similarly protected. Wall Streeters remark that everybody is covered but the office cat.

SIDELIGHTS

Rail employees will get back the pension premiums the roads have deducted from their pay. . . . That's one way of stimulating spending. . . . Statistical sharps have doped it out that federal appropriations for 124 years from 1789 to 1913 amounted to $24,000,000,000—the same as federal appropriations for the three fiscal years from 1934 to 1936. QUALITY LEADER!

YOU CAN'T BEAT THE Best

IN every contest there's a winner—one who by perfect coordination of mental and physical faculties excels in the task at hand. He is the best—and you can't beat the best.

In motor oil circles there's a new Quality Leader—TRITON—making sales history. Read why it's the best oil for your car.

TRITON MOTOR OIL

PROPANE SOLVENT PROCESS GIVES TRITON DEFINITE QUALITY LEADERSHIP

IN every lubricating oil "stock," eastern or western, there is a certain portion of 100% pure Parathenes—the best lubricating fractions—the true Paraffin-base oil.

Union's patented PROPANE Solvent Process, by which TRITON is made rejects all undesirable, low-gravity materials from the crude "stock"—leaving only the pure Parathenes.

Thus TRITON is 100% pure Paraffin-base—the best lubricating oil—and YOU CAN'T BEAT THE BEST.

WHAT IT DOES—How You Gain!

Over 250,000 miles of road testing have been concluded on TRITON. Here is what these tests proved:

1. TRITON has longer life in the crankcase—because it contains only the 100% pure Parathenes.
2. TRITON resists oxidation—is completely free from Carbogens (the low-gravity unstable materials which rapidly form sludge and carbon).

3. TRITON reduces engine wear 22 to 43% as shown by test runs—assuring longer engine life—fewer repair bills.
4. TRITON is more stable in use. After 1000 miles of driving, TRITON changes viscosity less than other oils.

START NOW! TRY TRITON!

Make the 3 Months' Test! Drain out the old oil from your crankcase, flush well, and refill with TRITON. Use TRITON for 3 crankcase changes. Note, how, with each successive filling during the test you get improved engine performance. This is because TRITON tones up your motor, helps to clean out previously collected sludge...permits the rings to function properly...and increases general motor efficiency.

Start the test today. Get TRITON wherever you see the big blue and white TRITON banner. 30c a quart in resealed cans.

STARS DISCARD TRADITIONAL RED, DON WHITE JERSEYS

This will be a significant night in the San Joaquin Valley league. For the first time in years, Santa Ana's night ball club will discard its traditional red jerseys for another color.

The new uniforms are white, splashed with red about the collar, and with identifying red numbers on the back. Only the red caps with the little white star remain of the old costume.

The white sweaters probably will be used at all of Santa Ana's home games. The club still has its red ones, with "Santa Ana" spaced across the fronts, to wear on the road.

Most baseball men are superstitious. That is why the Stars will wear the new outfits tonight against Riverside. The unwritten law of the diamond allows no player to wear anything new into the first league game. In other words, the Riverside game will be "dress rehearsal" for Santa Ana's opener with Olive next Tuesday.

League rules give no team exclusive privilege to any color scheme. For obvious reasons, however, the clubs have avoided duplication. Huntington Beach has been clad in deep maroon, changes this year to a two-tone effect of blue and gray. Olive will stay with green. Westminster orange. Anaheim blue, and Long Beach white.

Just out of a sick bed I have a constitutional right to be disagreeable so I find myself disagreeing violently with the esteemed columnist, Harry Carr. Mr. Carr criticizes women tennis players for wearing shorts, thinks all should be so governed because May Sutton in her day, Helen Wills in ours got along pretty with the whack game in skirts.

Continuing Carr's same reasoning, women should be wearing stockings with their bathing suits, high button shoes, and a hang-dog look.

As a matter of fact most women look better and feel better playing tennis in shorts. In five years the tennis skirt will be as extinct as the hoop skirt.

Baer Shooting Hoax? Officials Open Probe

ASBURY PARK, N. J., May 10.—(UP)—Prosecutor Raymond Egan will receive an official report today on the shot that was heard around the world—the shot that allegedly scorched Maxie Baer's bronze bosom.

This report from Chief Investigator Charlie Tate is expected to reveal whether yesterday's shooting of the heavyweight champion was an accident or a hoax.

No one has accused Madcap Maxie of perpetrating a hoax on his public and press—as yet. But several sage observers have remarked that when Joe Doakes is shot in the chest with a black cartridge it's too bad, whereas, when a heavyweight king is shot, it's good publicity.

This is particularly true when the champ is preparing to defend his title against a comparatively mediocre pugilist, James J. Braddock, on June 13.

And what if it were all a hoax, Prosecutor Bazley?

"We'll cross that bridge when we come to it," he replied. His tone was menacing.

Meanwhile, the champion, sporting some sticking plaster and gauze on the portside of his chest, figured on continuing his training today. He wore his hospital decorations like a Croix de Guerre, and insisted it concealed a powder blister "bigger'n a half dollar."

Propped up on pillows in bed at the Mrs. Ernest Levy mansion, his training quarters, he announced that he would do four-and-a-half miles of roadwork today.

But he thought his scorching would delay starting boxing four or five days.

L. A. POSTS FOR COLE, GREENE?

CONRAD MOVES INTO OUTFIELD AGAINST RUBES

Clad in brand new white uniforms, the soaring Stars of Santa Ana complete their spring exhibition series in the Municipal Bowl tonight against Riverside, defending champion of the inland American league.

Santa Ana has won its last four starts and, in an effort to perpetuate the streak, Manager Bill Cole will have intact the lineup he probably will use against Olive next Tuesday when the Stars begin their National league season here.

Jim Coates, who has about given up the notion of signing with Visalia, will be on the mound, scheduled to travel the full nine innings.

Tom Denney, veteran left fielder, will be in the game for the first time since early spring.

Francis Conrad, one of the best infielders in the league in 1934, has been moved to right field to make room for the flashy junior college starstop, Tashy Lacy, who has hit and fielded sensationally in exhibition contests. "Chub" Sears, who usually roams the right field, has been ill.

Riverside will bring here a team calculated to win the American division flag for the second time in succession. The Rubes blanked the Stars at Riverside early this season, and Chet Briggs and Jerry Parsons, the pitchers who did it, will try to repeat here. Bill Hunter, third baseman, will be remembered as a former Santa Ana.

Night Ball Hash: Exhibitions booked elsewhere tonight include Hollywood at Huntington Beach, Colton at Westminster, Arlington at Anaheim, Long Beach will be no set-up in the National league this term. In addition to signing Catcher "Benny" Wilcox, the Rear-Admirals have pitcher Wilbur Stinchfield, formerly of Santa Ana, and Ora Sands, one time leading batsman of the wheel.

Mal Higgins is another possibility. Sam Kent of Colton and "Speed" Bagley of Ventura will help Stinchfield with the pitching. Whittier talks of joining the American league as a traveling club.

Richards, Net Star, Badly Hurt In Crash

NEW YORK, May 10.—(UP)—Probably he was the best player ever produced in America who failed to win the National singles title. He did, however, win

Richards received a fracture of the right thigh which will keep him out of the professional championship matches at Orange, N. J., and possibly end his career as a tennis player.

Police said he either was blinded by the headlights of an approaching car or had dozed momentarily at the wheel.

Yesterday Richards announced he was in strenuous training for the matches. Three racquets were found in the rear of the car.

A former National champion, he was one of the first top players to enter the professional field. He lives in Bronxville, N. Y.

The crash occurred a short distance from a police station and was heard by two policemen on duty. After telephoning for an ambulance they removed Richards from the wreckage. All of the glass in the machine was shattered, they reported.

The pole struck by Richards' machine was knocked down. Richards, a former Davis Cup player and now a professional, was regarded as the greatest volleyball player the game has ever known.

'Give Me Ace Tackle' Coach Cook's Prayer

BY MARVIN SPICER

"Get me a tackle to fill Norton's place and the wingmen will take care of themselves."

That is coach Bill Cook's prayer as he makes ready to launch jayvee spring football practice at Poly field Monday.

Although all four of his ends—Ben Slavin, Frank Kroener, Walt Gunther, and Paul Perinich—are lost, Cook's primary search is for a powerful tackle.

Miles Norton, all-conference for two years, has left a gaping hole on the right side of the line. Neilson Rogers returns to handle the left tackle position but at present Cook has only one prospect for the other side, Cook believes that the line leading batsman of the wheel, Charley Roemer, who played good ball as a center last season until two bad passes in an important game caused him to lose his confidence, should fill the bill. Always strong on defense, Roemer should develop into a first-class tackle.

Cook believes, Roemer weighs 180 at present and should gain during the summer months.

Fourteen men, led by nine lettermen, report next Monday for a one week's drill on blocking and play fundamentals. If time permits, another week of practice may be added.

Veteran backs are Clyde Birdsong, halfback; Major Anderson and Bruce Harnois, quarterbacks; and Dick Moore, fullback. Line-men expected are Harold Upton and Bruce Martin, centers; Harold Pottorf, guard; and Roemer and Rogers, tackles.

New men are Al Parr, who played quarterback at Tustin two years ago; Vern Koepsel, 10 flat century man from the track team; Frank Boyd, Ray Sides, and Ray Cokely. Cook thinks that the 180-pound Cokely may go a long way toward filling the vacancy left by Sammy Tucker at running guard. Cokely is about 10 pounds heavier and faster than Tucker but lacks experience.

John Henry, basketball player and Don swimming captain, has indicated a desire to come out but will not be able to because of swimming duties.

Goshen in August now appears to be a toss-up between Silver King, Lawrence Hanover, Prince John, and Greyhound, by the way.

TIGERS TRY ANYTHING

Three Detroit players purposefully were caught off first base in one game in St. Louis, and Mickey Cochrane and Gerald Walker succeeded in jockeying along the baseline until Jo-Jo White and Bill Rogell scored. The Tigers were willing to try anything after what happened to them in the early going. Joe Cronin says that his Mexican outfielder, Melo Almada, plays grounders like a first-class infielder, is the best stylist on a fly ball that he knows of, and gets the ball away quicker than any other retriever. Clark Griffith asserts that three of Washington's half dozen left-handed hitters—Myer, Manush, Stone, Travis, Kuehl and Bolton—are as effective against southpaws as they are against right-handers. Lou Gehrig, who has a reputation as a consumer of eels, likes to catch them, but has never eaten one because they remind him too much of snakes.

BLANTON LOSES HIS FIRST 1935 CONTEST

NEW YORK, May 10.—(UP)—Darrell Blanton, the Pirate rookie with the "bloop" ball, was charged with his first defeat today and Johnny Whitehead of the White Sox carried on alone for the first year men.

Until Blanton's 3 to 1 defeat yesterday by the Giants, the two youngsters had travelled neck-and-neck as the first unbeaten four-game winners of the season. Carl Hubbell snapped Blanton's string.

The Pirate ace, with a screwball of his own that flutters in like a butterfly, mixed with the new "bloop" ball, a rising fast ball that explodes into a drop almost at right angles, had compiled the outstanding record of the season until the Giants won their 12th in 15 starts to set him back.

OMAHA 7-5 TO REPEAT DOUBLE WIN OF SIRE

The Preakness will be broadcast at 2 p. m., coast time, by K.H.J.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 10.—(UP)—A field of 11 three-year-olds, including the Kentucky Derby winner, Omaha, and several of his rivals in that classic, was named today for the $25,000 added Preakness stakes at Pimlico tomorrow.

The race is to be the 45th running of the mile and 3-16 stakes and will be run as the sixth event on an eight-race program.

Omaha, because of his brilliant showing in winning the Derby, ruled a favorite at 7 to 5. If the William Woodward entry should capture the Preakness he will have duplicated the feat of his sire, Gallant Fox, which doubled in the Derby and the Pimlico classic.

The entries, in order of post-position: Commonwealth, Nellie Flag, Mantaha, Boxhorn, Firehorn, Omaha, Furber, Lezume, Psychic Bid, Bloodroot, Brannon.

NEW YORK, May 10.—(UP)—Lou Ambers will hold a slight weight advantage over Tony Canzoneri for the lightweight championship tonight. Ambers weighs 133 3/4 as against 133 for Canzoneri.

NEW YORK, May 10.—(UP)—Lou Ambers, a good, young fighter on the way up, and Tony Canzoneri, a brilliant veteran on the way down, meet for 15 rounds in Madison Square Garden tonight. The winner will be recognized as world's lightweight champion.

The fight is the first of the "big four" scheduled for the early summer. It was a near sellout today. Garden officials expect a capacity throng of 20,000 and a gate of $60,000.

They're fighting for general recognition as champion of the 135-pound division. Both the New York State Athletic commission and the National Boxing association have said that they would list the winner as successor to Barney Ross who recently abdicated his crown to devote his energies toward regaining the welterweight title.

Only in Illinois will the title still be designated vacant. The Illinois commission has designated Davey Day, stablemate of Ross, as outstanding challenger, and the Ambers-Canzoneri winner must meet Day before all 48 states agree on a 135 pound champ.

Betting today was 7 to 5, for Ambers, which seems about right. This youngster of 42 contests and 41 decisions has never been stopped.

Canzoneri will be a heavy sentimental favorite. He's always been popular with the casual fan as well as with the workman in the press pews. Only 26, Tony has been around for fully 10 years and has had his hands taped for no fewer than 126 starts.

NEW YORK, May 10.—(UP)—The Saint invading list, Hawkins and Reif are considered cinches to qualify in Class A, with Whitney and Gillis outstanding in the "B" group. Hawkins will have no serious opposition in the high hurdles but Joe Davis of Inglewood ran 24.2 seconds in the Bay league, down last week. Gillis, Santa Ana's Class B broad-jumper, has bettered his record in six successive meets and looms as a possible Southern California champion.

Among the Orange league athletes expected to qualify without trouble are Morris of Anaheim and Tinsley of Huntington Beach in the sprints; Burns of Laguna Beach in the 440; Wager of Orange and John Ochoa of Anaheim in the 880, and Frank Ochoa of Anaheim and Spray of Tustin in the mile.

Members of the country club's inter-team squad dined with Mrs. McFadden, team captain, last night. A blind bogey tourney in the afternoon was won by Mrs. J. K. McDonald, 99-22-77. A tie for second place was between Miss Mead, 90-10-77, and Mrs. Don Andrews, 100-20-80.

Medal play winners: Mrs. H. Harwood, 92-12-80; Mrs. Paul Hall, 95-14-81; Miss Mead, 90-8-82.

WOMEN'S FINALISTS TO BATTLE TUESDAY

Mrs. J. L. McFadden and Miss Lolita Mead, finalists in the Santa Ana Country club women's championship golf tournament, have tentatively set Tuesday as the date for their titular playoff.

Members of the country club's inter-team squad dined with Mrs. McFadden, team captain, last night. A blind bogey tourney in the afternoon was won by Mrs. J. K. McDonald, 99-22-77. A tie for second place was between Miss Mead, 90-10-77, and Mrs. Don Andrews, 100-20-80.

Medal play winners: Mrs. H. Harwood, 92-12-80; Mrs. Paul Hall, 95-14-81; Miss Mead, 90-8-82.

PICKS DONS' LINEUP FOR GOLF PLAY HERE

Polishing their irons for a match that will decide the golf champion of the Eastern conference, Santa Ana jayvee golfers engage Pomona on the Santa Ana Country club fairways tomorrow morning at nine.

To date Santa Ana has a 12-3 victory over Riverside and a forfeit from San Bernardino.

Preston Piper, winner of the President's Cup at the Country club last year, will play No. 1; Gene Corson, No. 2; Leo Abbott, No. 3; Forrest Neal, No. 4; and Cliff Lee or Tom Kistinger, No. 5; will complete the Don contingent.

NEW YORK, May 10.—(UP)—The Pirates' new pitcher, Darrell Blanton, was charged with his first defeat today and Johnny Whitehead of the White Sox carried on alone for the first year men.

Until Blanton's 3 to 1 defeat yesterday by the Giants, the two youngsters had travelled neck-and-neck as the first unbeaten four-game winners of the season. Carl Hubbell snapped Blanton's string.

The Pirate ace, with a screwball of his own that flutters in like a butterfly, mixed with the new "bloop" ball, a rising fast ball that explodes into a drop almost at right angles, had compiled the outstanding record of the season until the Giants won their 12th in 15 starts to set him back.

Don Trackmen Off For Fresno Relays

Traveling in private cars, Santa Ana junior college's eight-man track team left at noon today for the West Coast Relays at Fresno.

The party, headed by Coach Bill Cook, included Capt. Lugan Wilson, Rudy Holman, Ray Cokely, Ray Craft, Frank Boyd, Kenneth Vandruft, Vernon Koepsel and Major Anderson. They will return Sunday.

Holman's cold was considerably improved this morning, but Coach Cook said he would use the former Orange youth in the two-mile relay only if his condition warranted.

Rob Reif, the hurdler for whom a brilliant future is predicted by no less an authority than Norman Paul, has a bruised instep but will compete with Santa Ana high school's other trackmen tomorrow in the Southern California prep meet trials at Stephens field, Long Beach.

Unable to put pressure on his foot, Reif was sent to a physician by Coach Reece Greene yesterday. The injury is not serious, and Reif will be able to run with the instep tightly bound.

The Saints will have 11 men in Classes A, B and C, five in each of the first two groups. The "open" competitors are Bill Hawkins, hurdler; Reif, hurdler; Fred Titensor, 440; Leonard Stafford, vaunter, and Blas Mercurio, high jumper. Franklin Guthrie, hurdler; Tom Matzen, 220; Dwight Nott, low hurdler; Herschel Whitney, 1320, and Cameron Gillis, broad-jumper, are entered with the "B" team. The lone "C" starter will be Gonzales, 660.

Athletes from 26 schools and four leagues—the Coast, Orange County, Bay and Marine—will figure in the Long Beach preliminaries. Entries are from Santa Ana, Orange, Tustin, Huntington Beach, Newport Harbor, Anaheim, Brea, Olinia, Garden Grove, Covina, Woodrow Wilson, Long Beach Poly, Inglewood, Santa Monica, Compton, Redondo Beach, San Diego, Glendale, Pasadena, Alhambra, Loyola, Harvard Military, Cathedral, Spanish-American institute, Ononta academy and St. Anthony's.

THE TINYMIES

"Oh, Mister Ink Man," Scouty cried, "I've stood right here and tried to make you hear my voice, because I need some body's aid."

"Now, I'll explain, if you don't mind. By this time, they're in hind. By this time, they're in trouble with that pirate, I'm afraid."

The ink man said, "Calm down a bit. Whatever it is, we'll handle it. Now, tell me what the trouble is. Then I'll begin to think."

"The pirate is my fault, you see, so, now, I guess it's up to me to save the bunch, and I will do it quicker than a wink."

Then Scouty told all that he knew about the Tines. "Oh, won't you please hurry and go back with me?" he finished, out of breath.

"That fellow's threatened all of us, and we just don't dare start a fuss, I must admit, quite frankly."

that he has us scared to death."

The ink man smiled and said, "Well, son, I'll shortly end his run of fun. You lead the way. I'll follow. I've a dandy plan, right now."

"It really is a clever art to handle folk when they get smart. You just be patient for a while, and I will show you how."

"Oh, gee, that's fine," cried Scouty. "Gee, I knew that you would come with me, but how will you get 'cross that stream and reach the little isle?"

"Upon my lasso I can make the trip, but with you, it would break."

"Oh, I know how we both can cross," the man said, with a smile.

"Hop right up on my shoulders, son. Here's where we have a lot of fun. I'm going to wade across the stream. It is not deep at all."

Wee Scouty did as he was told. They started out. "The water's cold," exclaimed the kind old ink man. "Now, be careful you don't fall."

AVOCADO MEN OF COUNTY WIN SHOW PRIZES

La Habra and La Habra Heights are both well represented with prize winning exhibits in the Annual Avocado Show now in progress in Whittier. It was learned today, Judges for the affair this year were Carter Barrett, avocado expert of Pasadena; P. W. Watson of Puente and A. R. Marshburn of Yorba Linda.

Visitors report this year's exhibits much more attractive than in other years, partly due to the larger display space provided than heretofore. There are also fewer other varieties of fruit on display this year.

La Habra took all three places in the plate displays of Puente, the principal commercial variety. A number of other ribbons were also won in other classes by La Habra.

Premium awards were made as follows: Puente, George W. Beck and Son, Charlton Ranch and P. J. Weiss, all of La Habra, Mayapan, George Viebeck, La Habra; Fred Downer and Spooner and Brooks of Fallbrook; Panchoy, D. S. Green of Whittier; Charles Hamburg and Brooks, Benick, Charlton Ranch, and Charles Hamburg.

BOX SUPPER HELD BY TUSTIN CLASS

TUSTIN, May 10.—A delightful old-fashioned box social was enjoyed by members and friends of the Friendship Bible class of the Tustin Presbyterian church Tuesday evening in the church social hall.

Orlo W. Householder auctioneered off the many attractively decorated boxes, filled with suppers for two. Dr. Chester A. Day, who was to have assisted in the auctioneering, was unable to attend because of illness.

After the supper had been enjoyed, Mrs. George Gaylord gave two Mother's Day readings and Mrs. Robert C. Korff entertained with two flute solos, with Mrs. W. S. Leinberger accompanying at the piano. Several old-fashioned games were played and the affair concluded with a brief business session, conducted by the president, Mrs. Frank H. Greenwood. B. F. Beswick is the teacher of the class.

Committees in charge of arrangements for the successful benefit social were Messrs. and Mesdames J. H. Pankey, Frank H. Greenwood and B. B. McCulla.

PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR P.-T. A. PARTY

LAGUNA BEACH, May 10.—An attractive program of entertainment, featuring musical selections, various types of dancing numbers ranging from the Spanish "La Jota" to the Japanese sword dance, humorous skits, and a typical Spanish fiesta scene has been arranged for the benefit card party to be given next Saturday evening by the Laguna Beach high school Parent-Teacher association at the Community club, according to Mrs. Raymond Fink, in charge of program arrangements.

Included among students taking part in the program are Arline Bradley, Lucille Woods, Jack Lighthart, Hisako Ishida, Emilio Sakamoto, Lee Riddell, Mickey Bradley, Verda Mackey and Chesney Bethea. The fiesta scene will be staged by the Spanish class of the high school. Roy M. Ropp, local contractor and artist, has donated one of his canvases as a door prize.

Search Started For Town Pump

LAGUNA BEACH, May 10.—Highways and byways as well as premises of exclusive antique shops and less attractive junk stores were searched today for one of the art colony's treasured possessions, the old town pump, an ancient landmark located about two miles up in the canyon, reported missing since last Tuesday.

The disappearance of the familiar landmark, which has adorned the canyon road for the past 30 years, and held the distinction of being the community's first water works, was reported yesterday to Constable E. T. Cresce of Laguna township who, accompanied by William J. Caldwell, of Laguna, made a search.

In the early days of the colony, it was learned, the old pump was the main source of water supply, and several persons made it a business to cart water from the well to the beach where it was sold at the rate of 50 cents a barrel. Whether the old pump had been taken by a curio collector or by some one more practically inclined was a matter of conjecture.

The QUEEN'S CHRISTMAS GIFT

CHRISTMAS DAY of 1898 marked the introduction of uniform penny postage throughout the British Empire. This outstanding postal reform was Queen Victoria's Christmas gift to her subjects.

To commemorate that event, Canada issued a special two-cent stamp, which is equal to one penny postage. It presented a map of the world showing in red all British possessions of that time to which a letter could be mailed for the stamp. Below the map was the wording, "Xmas 1898," and below that was a line which read, "We Hold a Vaster Empire Than Has Been," the inspiration of Sir Lewis Morris.

ORANGE PERSONALS

ORANGE, May 10.—Miss Mary E. Costlow, of Brookfield, Penn., who has been a house guest in the home of Mrs. Inez Spangler and Miss Lewina Butler, East Chapman avenue, this winter, has left for her home.

H. G. Lembeck and son, Edgar Lembeck, 324 North Cleveland street, returned this week from a trip through the middle west. He spent some time in California, S. D., his former home.

PLAYERS PLAN REVIVAL FOR OLD SUCCESS

If you were privileged to ask for a revival of a past Community Players' success, what would you choose?

"Enter Madame!" That was the play that was most in demand when Players' association members first broached the plan of staging a revival at an early date, and found a gratifying interest on the part of all with whom they discussed the project.

When patrons and association members themselves seemed so enthusiastic in regard to presenting "Enter Madame!" with as nearly the original cast as could be brought together, Harry Hanson, association president, and his co-workers on the governing board, took immediate steps to see if it would be possible to secure the production rights for a single night.

"Enter Madame!" by Gilda Varese and Dolly Byrne, was a big stage success and has now been secured by one of the leading motion picture companies. Gilda Varese and Ernest Crozier Phillips, first Community Players' director, were associated in the company of Madame Helene Modjeska.

Given Here In 1927 The play was given by the Santa Ana association in February, 1927, in the Temple theater. The cast was directed by George Gerwing, who was highly complimented on his success. Gerwing went to wider fields and is now production manager for California SERA dramatic division, with headquarters in Los Angeles.

In presenting "Enter Madame" for the local association, in which he had worked under Ernest Crozier Phillips ever since his high school days, Gerwing assembled a fine cast, some of whose members will have to be replaced, but the principals of which are all available and have agreed to work in the current production.

They include Mona Summers Smith, who played the tempestuous and temperamental opera star of the title role; Warren Fletcher as the husband and Edith Cornell as the companion, character work that remains undimmed in the minds of all who saw the play. The cast continued with Charles Seales, Dorothy Mayhew, Emil Faust, Goldie Jacobson, Val Clark, Raymond Simpson and Ethel Osterman. Of these, Miss Mayhew, Val Clark and Raymond Simpson are still available for the same roles in the revival.

Will Be Rushed Tentative dates have been discussed, for it is necessary to stage the play before the departure of members of the cast for summer vacations. So if the plan carries through, the association will stage a whirlwind campaign of work and rehearsals, secure their playhouse for the one night, and give the city an evening of delightful entertainment at popular prices.

It has been suggested that interest in this revival may arouse a demand for a number of plays which have been so thoroughly enjoyed in the years since the association was formed. Patrons are asked to make such requests to Mrs. Paul Bailey, secretary of the association, at 311 East Washington avenue. Such requests will be given full consideration by the governing board.

Noted Orchestra Comes To Catalina

AVAILON, May 10.—Ben Bernie, "The Ole Maestro" in person, and all the lads will open their six weeks summer engagement at the Casino on Santa Catalina island Saturday night, May 18. Stars of the cinema firmament have been invited as guest artists for the gala event which will mark Ben Bernie's first appearance at the famous island resort.

The beautiful Casino ball room accommodates 3000 couples and is one of the largest and most unique in the world. The dance floor is floated on cork and inlaid in seven woods, entirely circular without a post or overhanging balcony. During the dances, symphonies of color harmonies accompany the orchestra, flooding the ballroom in the soft shades of the rainbow climaxed in a crescendo of splendor in the fluted canopy of the ceiling.

Society has made reservations for loges for the opening night weeks in advance. Smart dinner parties at the Hotel St. Catherine, house-parties and yachting parties to precede Ben Bernie's debut at the Casino are planned by the social elite of the Southland.

Sororities and fraternities of both U.S.C. and U.C.L.A. will hold dancing parties at Santa Catalina island on the opening night of the "Ole Maestro."

TAKE MUSQUASH TO CHILE FOR RAISING FURS

It may be true that the east and west can never meet, but the north and south have accomplished this feat recently—and word of the meeting arrived here through Theodore Biddlingmaier, former resident of Orange, who has established in South America, a home for nearly two dozen erstwhile residents of North America. The emigrants to South America are a colony of little fur-bearing animals called the musquash, natives of the swamp lands of Louisiana and Maryland, a species of muskrat.

Biddlingmaier, a student of zoology, became interested in the musquash when he learned that they were dying off in those states owing to the fact that swamp lands were drying.

Through his study of zoology and a wide knowledge of the topography of the countries of the world, Biddlingmaier was aware that similar swamp lands and similar climatic conditions existed in Chile as in the two southern states. He made the acquaintance of the Chilean consul at Los Angeles, Señor Arturo Rios, and negotiations were opened to establish colonies of the little animals in Chile.

Animals Getting Scarce
As an animal lover, Biddlingmaier naturally has a kind heart, but pity was not the motivating power behind his efforts to save the musquash from extinction. And, naturalists assert, extinct it will be as the drying of the swamps will do away with its natural food supply—cat-tail roots. Rather Biddlingmaier looked forward to raising the musquash for fur, as its black coat most nearly resembles that of the rare Hudson seal than any other fur-bearing creature. It is about the size of a squirrel with a bushy tail which is used in making imitation ermine.

The project of raising the animals along with silver-tipped foxes, is under the direct supervision of the Chilean government and the colony is established in the lake country around Puerto Varas, Chile, and on the shores of Lake Llanquihui, pronounced, he writes, "yee-an-ke-way." The journey from San Pedro to Puerto Varas was accomplished in 31

OFFER $100 IN CASH PRIZES
IN CONTEST FOR PROMOTING
PURCHASE OF COUNTY GOODS

One hundred dollars in cash prizes will be given away to persons writing the best letters on "Why Everyone Should Buy and Use Orange County Products."

This announcement was made today by George Raymer, secretary of the Orange County Associated Chambers of Commerce, under whose sponsorship a "Buy Orange County Products" campaign is being inaugurated this week, details of which will be announced tonight at 6:30 o'clock on KREG when a feature broadcast presenting noted radio artists and a group of Orange county leading businessmen will be made.

In announcing the contest, a statement from the Associated Chambers of Commerce said: "We are sponsoring this 'Buy Orange County Products' campaign as a means of publicizing the high quality of many products made in this county, and the economic desirability of supporting these home industries as a means of aiding employment through increased industrial activity."

"The first product to be featured is Acme gasoline, refined by Socal Oil and Refining company at Huntington Beach from Huntington Beach premium quality crude oil. Acme gasoline is the only gasoline which is both refined and marketed in Orange county and because gasoline is universally used it was selected as the first product to be featured in this 'Buy Home Products' movement. Other Orange county products will be featured later."

"Tadpole and Molly," known and loved by thousands of Southern California radio listeners for several years of previous broadcasts from a well known radio station, will be featured in tonight's initial program and each Monday thereafter at 6:45 p.m. This duo is also known to their many friends as Clarence and Doris. "Adolph and Louie," who established themselves in the hearts of many listeners with their previous broadcasts from KREG of their antics and humorous escapades will also be heard tonight and each Friday at 6:45 o'clock. A series of thrilling and engrossing dramas will be presented by a group of all-star players each Wednesday at the same hour. The first one, next Wednesday, is titled "Doctor Massakoff." The three broadcasts each week will be of the highest caliber on the air, it was stated.

Judges of the contest include W. C. Jerome and F. C. Mock, Santa Ana; Howard Irwin, Fullerton; K. E. Watson sr., Orange, and Charles Furr, Huntington Beach.

Those who will speak briefly during tonight's broadcast are Howard Irwin, representing the Associated Chambers of Commerce, and C. A. Johnson, president of Socal Oil and Refining company of Huntington Beach.

Country is Beautiful
The country where he is established resembles that of Orange county, Biddlingmaier states, and the private estates, vast ranches, are veritable towns with private polo fields and every convenience imaginable. The buildings are quaint and romantic and the town of only 1500 persons has many beautiful parks.

ASK CITIZENS TO TAKE PART IN AIR EVENT

As part of a nation-wide observance of the 17th anniversary of the establishment of the air mail system in the United States, citizens of Santa Ana were asked today to send all their letters and packages by air on Air Transport Day, May 15. Dale Deckert, chairman of the Santa Ana committee of the National Aeronautic association, asks that all private and business interests join in this practical recognition of the founding of the air transport industry.

"Our air transport lines are equipped to carry at great speed and low cost, much larger cargoes of air mail and express than are now being transported," Deckert said.

"There are now 210 cities in America which are served directly by our national network of air lines, and over 1500 cities which are not located directly on these lines, but which still benefit from the use of the combination air-rail services. Under ordinary conditions, air mail travels three times faster than ordinary mail, and I hope that the citizens of Santa Ana will demonstrate this fact for themselves on May 15 by sending their out-of-town communications marked 'via Air Mail.'"

A special celebration of Air Transport Day has been arranged at Newark, New Jersey, in which the leading American air lines and other aviation interests will participate. Mayor Fred Rowland has been asked to send an official greeting to Mayor Meyer C. Ellenstein which will be read at the ceremonies in Newark.

FIRST BIRTHDAY IS OBSERVED AT PARTY

WINTERSBURG, May 10.—Observing the first anniversary of her son, Bernie Edison Kays, Jr., Mrs. B. E. Kays, of Boulevard Gardens, was hostess to a group of mothers and children at her home Wednesday afternoon. A pink and blue color scheme was carried out in refreshments favors and flowers. One pink candle decorated the anniversary cake which was served with ice cream.

An unusual feature of the party was the presence of two pairs of local twins, Kenneth and Douglas Owen and Rita and Ruth Anderson. Those present were Mrs. Dell Radio and daughter, Darleen; Mrs. Cleo Bell and son, Jimmie; Mrs. Howard Pamplin and sons, Elton, Ray and Leonard; Mrs. C. T. Anderson and Rita and Ruth, Mrs. Yarnall Owen and Kenneth and Douglas, Mrs. Chamberlain and son, Mrs. Ward Mosley and daughter, Mrs. the honor guest, Bernie Edison Kays, and his mother, Mrs. B. E. Kays.

GARDEN GROVE, May 10.—Mrs. Mae L. Henry, past matron of Garden Grove Chapter, O. E. S., entertained members of the Past Matrons' association of Garden Grove at their monthly meeting at her home Tuesday afternoon. The group met at 1 o'clock for a dessert course which was served on card tables decorated in a spring motif. The remainder of the time was spent in a social way.

Those present were Mrs. S. S. Jackson and daughter, Mrs. Guy Capps, of Los Angeles, guests of the afternoon; Mrs. Beale Day, Mrs. Mabel Dolg, Mrs. Emma Kearns, Mrs. Anne Haster, Miss Margaret Hill and Mrs. Henry.

NAME STUDENT BODY OFFICERS
NEXT TUESDAY

Thirty-four students of the Santa Ana High school were candidates today for nine student body officers for the annual election of student body officers Tuesday, May 14.

Primaries will be held Tuesday, and final votes probably will be cast Thursday of next week according to Lynn H. Crawford, principal-elect. The candidates who receive a majority vote will not be voted on in the finals.

"This group of candidates is one of the highest in citizenship that has been selected for student body officers in many years," stated Mr. Crawford. "Of the 35 prospective candidates, only one was eliminated because of unsatisfactory work," he continued. A citizenship rating of 90 per cent or better is necessary for candidacy in any school election.

According to observers, it is expected that this election will be one of the closest in the school's history. The offices that will be voted upon are president, vice-president, secretary, commissioner of finance, commissioner of athletics, commissioner of publications, boys' self-government, and girls' self-government.

Those running for president are Ralph Fuller, Mac Beall, Bob Wilde, and Don Kennedy; for vice-president are Mera Morris, Miss Virginia Pritchard, Bill Flood, and Fred James; for secretary are Miss Virginia Wilson, Miss Ruth Franderson, and Donald Randall; for commissioner of finance are Jerry Roland and Clyde Files; for commissioner of athletics Ed Velarde, William Keeton, and Miss Audrey Granas; for commissioner of athletics are Erwin Youel, Bob Reif, and Herschel Whitney; for commissioner of publications, Miss Geraldine Gilbert, Jerry Hawkins, Mrs. Chester Salsbury; for boys' self-government, Harold Tucker, Paul Wolven, Bob Speed, William Semminger, Lyle Meyer, and Bill Milligan; and for girls' self-government are the Misses Carolyn Davis, Betty Bradley, Jean Munro, Mary Henderson, Dorothy Jenkins, and Billie Johnson.

Those who will speak briefly during tonight's broadcast are Howard Irwin, representing the Associated Chambers of Commerce, and C. A. Johnson, president of Socal Oil and Refining company of Huntington Beach.

IT'S STRAW HAT TIME IN SANTA ANA

Every felt hat has its day, but now it's the straw hat's day. Walter Swanberger, left in the picture below, who is chairman of the special committee from the retail division of the chamber of commerce in charge of Straw Hat Day tomorrow, is presenting a brand-new straw to Secretary Howard L. Wood of the chamber of commerce while W. H. Spurgeon, right, president of the chamber, gazes disconsolately at his felt hat which has served him well and which now must be discarded. —Photo by Adams

STRAWS ARE IN SEASON; FELTS
ARE DISCARDED

Off with the old and on with the new!

That's what residents of Santa Ana will start doing with their hats in earnest tomorrow as the clotheiers in the city unite in a showing of the new straw hats and panamas which the well-dressed man will wear with his summer and spring outfits this year.

Smart, cool and correct, these new straws which merchants are showing now are better straws than anything yet offered in the city.

An unique feature of the new straws in the better grades is that there are straws shaped to fit every head. And so there'll be no more excuses possible from any man who might say that he can't wear a straw.

These new straws come in three different head contours — wide, oval, regular oval and long oval. The ovalized hats will fit any head and set right and look good.

Perfect in fit and comfort, the 1935 designs are made in many weaves. Some of the hats have an entirely new elastic-weave braid that gives surprising resiliency and untold comfort. They're light weight and air-cooled.

Panamas will be popular again this year, with the likelihood that the Optimo will continue to be the favorite style. The new panamas, however, come in a wide assortment of shapes and weaves and, like the straws, in a wide-range price field.

With spring and summer outfits, men should wear spring and summer hats, the clotheiers point out.

"Look at your hat," they say, "everyone else does!"

Jerome To Head Elks

Plans Completed
For Laguna Beach
Poppy Day Sales

LAGUNA BEACH, May 10.—Mrs. Carl Benson, past president of the American Legion auxiliary and chairman of the poppy sale committee, today announced that arrangements have been completed for the sale of poppies on Saturday, May 25, in Laguna, the proceeds of the sale being devoted to veterans' welfare work.

In the contest for the best posters turned out by the students, advertising the poppy sale, Louise Wilson won the first prize in the high school. Second place was taken by Nellie Sehn and Chesney Bethwa was given honorable mention. In the grammar school grades the poster prize was won by Alice Booth with Margaret Woodward taking second place. Norbert Kluever was given honorable mention.

First prize for the best essay dealing with poppy day was awarded to Ruth Benson. Second place was given Evelyn Baggs and Warren Foster was awarded third.

Following the business session of the lodge a program observing Mother's Day will be presented with the officers in charge of the ritual. Light lunch will be served following the session.

Winners in Tournament Are to Be Married in Early June

How many Santa Anans who attended the recent programs of Southern California Tournament of One Act Plays, were aware that they were watching a charming romance on the night that Touchstone Drama Shop gave the trophy-winning play, "Clippit"? Those who saw the names of the contestants may have been so impressed by seeing that of Miss Mary Clifton, formerly of this city, that they would fail to recall that Jack Swarthout, playing the visiting uncle in the little comedy, was her fiancé.

But several Santa Ana Community Players noted it and commented upon the fact to Miss Clifton. At the time she admitted that in a few weeks in the future, the engagement, it will be recalled, was announced over a year ago when Miss Clifton, graduating from University of Southern California, complied with the university custom by revealing the betrothal at the annual breakfast held in Delta Delta Delta house. The young people have decided upon the date of June 8 for their wedding, which will be a high noon ceremony in St. Alban's Episcopal church, Westwood. Miss Margaret Clifton will serve her sister as honor maid, with Mrs. Orest Clifton, Mrs. Roy McRann, Mrs. Gilbert Moore, Miss Ruth Peterson and Miss Catherine MacBride completing the bride's attendants.

Mr. Swarthout, whose father is head of the piano department of the University School of Music, is president of the graduate body of the university, and an affiliate of Kappa Alpha and Pi Sigma Alpha. His brother, R. E. Swarthout, will be his best man, and ushers will include Norman Wright, Roy McRann, Gilbert Moore, Orest Clifton and Ustin Menzies. Miss Clifton has been in newspaper work since her graduation, but returned last fall to take post graduate work and fill a clerical position at the university. She was president of the School of Speech student body during her senior year, and a member of Zeta Phi Eta. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Clifton, 632 North Ross street.

Harmony Bridge Club

Mesdames Betty Gowdy and Irma Folger were co-hostesses Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of Harmony Bridge club in Masonic temple. Card prizes were won by Mrs. Nellie Young, Mrs. Gertrude Walden and Mrs. Maud Swarthout, scoring first, second and low.

Present were Mesdames Betty Gowdy, Irma Folger, Flora Bruns, Frances Dennis, Winnie Deard, Dolly Dimmitt, Elsie Edwards, Julia Foust, Evelyn Hersher, Amanda Holmes, Elizabeth Jernigan, Laura Kesemann, Pearl Leary, Imogene Maxwell, Effie Neuschwanger, Della Maud Ryan, Jennie Shippe, Nell Spangh, Naomi Steele, Mildred Snyder, Maud Swarthout, Nellie Young, Gertrude Walden, Estelle McFarren, Georgia Wyckoff, members, and a guest, Mrs. Mary Louise Hamlet of Balboa Island.

First in Spring Series Of Hospitalities Is Given in Glenn Home

Launching a series of charming informal parties to precede her departure for Los Angeles in June, Mrs. Thomas Hall Glenn entertained yesterday at luncheon and contract in her home, 2331 Bonnie Brae.

On June 17, Mrs. Glenn will assume teaching duties at University of Southern California where her classes will be in French, her mother-tongue. She plans to take a small apartment in the city, returning to her home here, each Friday for the week-end. Mrs. Glenn hopes to arrange his summer study schedule so that he too may be in Los Angeles for the corresponding period, which will close on July 27.

Yesterday Mrs. Glenn received guests in her pretty garden where fruit cocktails and canapés were served to precede the main luncheon course. For the latter, guests found places at a beautifully appointed table, their hostess had decorated with plumy sprays of wild lilac which just now is misting California hills and canyons. Its shadowy blue blended perfectly with the dominant color of the dining room draperies and appointments.

Bridge tables were in readiness in an adjoining room, and an exciting afternoon followed, for two of the players, Mrs. Emrys D. White and her partner, Mrs. George Rice III (Sherrell Spurgeon) bid and made a grand slam. This aided in establishing Mrs. White as holder of high score, and resultant winner of the first prize selected by her hostess. To Mrs. Richard Emmer, went second prize while that for medium score was presented Mrs. Dexter Ball.

Mrs. Glen will continue her series next week with a similar hospitality scheduled for Thursday. Her guests yesterday included Mrs. William H. Spurgeon, Mrs. George Rice III of Santa Monica, Mrs. Terry E. Stephenson, Mrs. Richard Emmer, Mrs. Dexter Ball, Mrs. Herbert Miller, Mrs. Ray Adams, Mrs. M. Burr Wellington, Mrs. Maurice Enderle, Mrs. Emrys D. White and Mrs. Lloyd E. Chenoweth.

Mayflower Club Has Election of Officers

Mayflower club elected officers Tuesday afternoon at a meeting in the home of Mrs. R. E. Smith, 802 East Sixth street. Mrs. Laura Sanborn was assisting hostess.

Mrs. L. A. Gowdy was named president; Mrs. J. W. Parkinson, vice president; Mrs. W. M. Ford, secretary; Mrs. Edward Cochems, treasurer; Mrs. J. H. Patison, press chairman.

Cards and sewing occupied the group during the afternoon. Corsage bouquets served as favors during the refreshment hour. Mrs. Sanborn invited the group to hold a family party Sunday, May 19, in her cabin at San Juan Hot Springs. The next regular meeting will be held Tuesday, June 4, in the home of Mrs. Cochems, with Mrs. E. E. Frisby as co-hostess.

Present was a guest, Mrs. John Fraley, and members, Mesdames C. W. Rowland, J. W. Parkinson, V. C. Shidler and daughter Jacqueline, F. W. Sanford, W. M. Ford, P. T. Isherwood, Edward Cochems, W. A. Maryne, L. A. Gowdy, A. T. Perkins and son Roger, J. H. Patison, William Lawrence, E. E. Frisby, S. F. Bernier, A. C. Wiebe and the hostesses, all of this community, with Mrs. Harvey Springer of Rialto.

University Women Hold Election Of Officers

Election of officers took place last night at a monthly meeting of Orange County branch A. A. U. W. held in the Y. W. C. A. rooms. Those named were Mrs. Horace Scott, president; Miss Lucie McDermott, vice-president; Miss Dorothy Wentz, recording secretary; Miss Marie Moog, corresponding secretary; Mrs. M. W. Hollingsworth, Mrs. Percy Budd, Miss Bernice Boyd, Miss Ruth Prothingham, directors.

Miss Mabel McFadden and Mrs. Horace Scott were chosen as delegates to the national convention to be held June 24-29 at Los Angeles. Convention plans were outlined by Irene Taylor Heineman, director of South Pacific section A. A. U. W., who spoke on "The Role of University Women as Makers of Social History," the theme of the approaching convocation. She stated that the convention will endeavor to open up channels of thinking, to show how to bridge the gap between more study organizations and organizations which go in for real accomplishment.

Miss Helen Santmeyer spoke on the advantages of membership in A. A. U. W. when abroad. Members are extended such privileges as staying at the University Women's club in Paris, it was explained. Mrs. Charles Brisco was program chairman, introducing Lynwood Young, who sang two numbers, one from "Il Pagliacci" and another from "Girl of the Golden West," accompanied by Genevieve Eustis. He sang "Shortnin' Bread" as an encore.

Mrs. Charles Brisco poured tea when refreshments were served under direction of Miss Evelyn Metzger, hospitality chairman. This pleasant interval gave members opportunity to discuss final arrangements for their annual scholarship benefit dessert bridge party to be held tomorrow at Ebell clubhouse.

Der Deutsche Verein, whose membership takes in Adult Education German classes, followed an evening meeting this week at Frances Willard Junior High school with a party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Hayden, 2224 Greenleaf street. Mrs. Hayden's mother, Mrs. F. C. Buchtel, was hostess.

A German word jumble and talks in the German tongue interested the group during the evening. Mrs. Sparks told of her experiences while teaching school in North Dakota; Mrs. Herman Berk of a motor trip across the continent; Arthur Robb, of his experiences along the German border during the World War. Mrs. Barbara Ralph read an original German poem. Short talks were given by Mrs. Catherine Stinson, Mrs. W. R. McKee, Mrs. Katherine Schmiedeberg and Mrs. J. Houghton.

Mrs. Buchtel and Miss Gretchen Lieberman displayed pictures of various European countries. Mrs. Buchtel spoke of her extensive travels through Germany, Austria, Hungary, Italy and other points. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Stinson, Mrs. McKee and Mrs. Hayden.

Present, in addition to those already mentioned were Mrs. H. P. Opp, Mrs. Caroline Opp, Mrs. Myrtle Borchard, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Martin, Herman Berk, Ernst Pruner, T. O. Olsen, Mrs. Paul Witmer, Miss Helena S. Christiansen.

The beginning class in German meets every Monday, and the advanced class, every Tuesday at 7 p. m. at Frances Willard Junior High school.

Frequent Substitute For Bridge Club Entertains

Having spent many enjoyable sessions at bridge as special substitute for a three table contract club, Mrs. A. M. Gardner yesterday took the post of hostess instead when she entertained the club at luncheon in her home, 822 East Washington ave.

The delicate hues of French primroses gave color and charm to the dining room where luncheon courses were served in advance of the afternoon's play. The flowers were especially artistic as a centerpiece for the table where cards to match, designated places.

Covers were laid for the hostess, Mrs. Gardner, and for Mesdames J. Frank Burke, W. Maxwell Burke, Edward M. Nealley, B. H. Sharpless, C. P. Boyer, Arthur Lyon, E. E. Keech, Helen B. Babcock, C. M. Rowland, J. E. Gowen and Miss Beulah May.

Mrs. Keech made the afternoon's high score in contract, meriting the prize given by Mrs. Gardner. There was a pleasant interval also of travel talk, for everyone was interested in plans of their hostess to sail soon for Hawaii.

Executive Board Gives Surprise Dinner

McKinley P. T. A. executive board gave a surprise dinner party last night in compliment to the president, Mrs. Floyd Mitchell, who has been installed for a second term of office.

The dinner was held in the home of Mrs. Harold Greenwald, 1210 West First street. Orchid and yellow sweet peas and tapers provided decorations. One basket of flowers had been sent in by Mrs. Lois Martin. Mrs. Greenwald's sister, Miss Martha Smiley and Miss Justine Krock assisted in serving.

Present were Mrs. John J. Mills, new president of City Council P. T. A.; with Mesdames Ruby Drake, Herbert Hildebrand, Stuart Gibbs, O. A. SCALLOPS MAKE PANTIE FROCK DAINTY

PATTERN 2247
By ANNE ADAMS

The smart little tot wears "next to nothing" these warm days, and here's a pattern that will make her whole wardrobe cost "next to nothing" too! For her play dress what could be more serviceable than a god sturdy percale, gingham, or seersucker made exactly like it's pictured, with four big buttons for trim? The simple pantie and nice box pleats in the skirt allow her to kick her heels in the air! Then for her Sunday-best dresses, use the same pattern, only choose dimity or swiss this time and edge all the little scallops with dainty lace—the panties too! And presto!—like that, her whole wardrobe is complete!

Pattern 2247 is available in sizes 2, 4, 6, and 8. Size 6 takes 2-4 yards 36 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included.

CRAB MEAT FRITTERS
1 cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
2 level tablespoons cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg, white beaten stiff
1/4 cup sweet milk
1 tablespoon oil, preferably olive oil
1/2 to 1 pound crab meat.

Mix and sift all dry ingredients. Combine milk and egg yolk with oil and mix with flour to make a batter. Whip in the beaten egg white, and add from 1/2 to 1 pound of crab meat, depending on number to be served (1/2 pound serves 4). Drop by spoonfuls into hot deep fat and fry brown.

To make the hot tartar sauce, cook in a double boiler 1 cup top milk, 2 tablespoons butter and 1 tablespoon flour smoothed with water. When you have a thin smooth sauce add 2 beaten egg yolks, 1/2 cup mayonnaise (vessel off stove, but over hot water). Juice of 1 lemon and enough catsup or chili sauce to give color and flavor.

NUT-LIKE FLAVOR AND WHOLESOMENESS OF WEBER'S HONEY-KRUSHED BREAD WINNING HUNDREDS OF LOCAL PEOPLE

Remarkable New Loaf, Made with Finest Crushed Wheat and Pure Table Honey, Praised for Its Effectiveness

Weber's Honey-Krushed Bread had to be unusual to cause so many Southern California people to write in, praising this remarkable loaf. The bakers of this new bread have confidently asked the public to try Honey-Krushed Bread for just ten days and then decide as to the qualities it possesses. By the hundreds, the letters keep coming in, saying there is no bread like Honey-Krushed. After you have tried it, you will agree.

"I highly recommend your Honey-Krushed Bread," writes Mrs. G. W. Reeder, 363-A West Broadway, Glendale, California, "and am very grateful for what it has done for me. I know that other women will experience the same results with Honey-Krushed Bread that I have, after giving it a thorough trial."

It is the special combination of ingredients that makes Honey-Krushed Bread so good for you. The foundation of this wholesome loaf is the world's finest whole wheat in crushed form. This bread also contains a liberal amount of the highest grade pure table honey, which lends its deliciousness to the appetizing flavor of the loaf.

Another to praise Weber's Honey-Krushed Bread is Mrs. Emma Orrence, 1508 N. Main St., Los Angeles, who writes, "I want to tell you what Weber's Honey-Krushed Bread did for me. By eating it just a short while I have proved to myself that it is all you claim it to be. It has a most appetizing taste, and when toasted it is delicious."

Make This Ten-Day Test

Eat Weber's Honey-Krushed Bread for just ten days, then you be the judge as to how good for you this special bread is. On flavor alone, this delicious loaf will win you. It has an appetizing nut-like taste. Give yourself the benefit of this unusual bread. Ask your grocer for Weber's Honey-Krushed Bread, in the red wrapper with the Cellophane window.

Picnic experience ends "Coffee-Floating"

TO TELL the truth, the Blairs' picnic had not been very pleasant. Half the day was spent riding along country roads looking for a "nice place" to eat their lunch. After many disappointing stops they finally pulled up under a forlorn tree, ate their sandwiches and salad, and then started for home.

"Wasn't it a shame we had to picnic in such an uninteresting spot?" sighed Mrs. Blair as they sped along the highway.

"Well," replied Mr. Blair, "we have only ourselves to blame. You can't find good picnic grounds when you don't know where you're going. Just look how we floated around today, and look at the luck we had. And if you don't mind my saying so, this coffee-floating habit of ours is just as unsatisfactory. We've had this brand and that brand, and every one tastes like bad news. How about some Hills Bros. Coffee for supper, and let's drink it from now on. You know we'll be better satisfied."

GOOD GARDENING

By Mrs. H. Cardozo Sloan, Corona Del Mar

Being sound advice and interesting comment on what to plant and how to care for orange county gardens.

LILAC-TIME

Recently someone brought us a big bunch of lilac blooms, not as large or as fine, perhaps, as Eastern lilacs, but passing fair, and filling the whole house with their perfume. Ah, that perfume that "mastering odor"—how potent it is to stir the springs of memory. In the still dark hours of the night when, half awake and half asleep, I seemed to be floating on an amethyst sea of lilac fragrance, the lilacs of my youth drifted across my inner vision. The lilacs which tossed their purple trusses against my chamber windows; the white lilac, so old and tall one could reach out from the attic window and touch its blossoms; and, dearest of all, the lilac bush which filled the space between the pantry window and the back piazza steps at Aunt Lizzie's. Through all the springs of my childhood and girlhood, how I adored that lilac.

The lilac-bush tall-growing with heart-shaped leaves of rich green. With many a pointed blossom rising delicate, with the perfume strong I love. With every leaf a miracle. Such was Walt Whitman's lilac, and such, also, was mine.

The lilac, best loved of all blossoming shrubs in Eastern gardens, does not grow with equal grace in our California climate. It needs the autumn winds to strip away its heart-shaped leaves; it needs the snow to lie along its bare branches of winter nights beneath the frosty twinkling of star-spangled skies; it needs the warm rain of a February day to quicken the buds already swelling on boughs to glistening, satiny brown, jeweled with raindrops. All these it needs to clear away every trace of bygone bloomings and bring in each succeeding springtime that miracle of leaf and bloom and perfume, ineffably fresh, ineffably lovely, eternally young, which is the peculiar charm of the lilac, whose scent is as pure as on the first May morning the world ever knew.

While the lilac does not attain to its full glory with us in California, it is well worth growing, especially by those to whose hearts it is bound by tender memories. In the mountain regions where the winters are colder, and in the coast areas, it grows quite well, and should be planted more often than it is. California horticulturists offer a number of the French varieties, selected as the best of their kind for our climate, and these give handsome trusses of bloom, not only in the more familiar lilac color, but snow white, a pure pink, a lovely blue, reddish purple, and a deep purple. The Persian lilac is of more slender growth, with arching branches. The flowers are a pale lilac, small, and in loose, open clusters. The Chinese lilac is particularly well adapted to California conditions. It also has slender branches and panicles of purple blooms.

The beloved lilac of Eastern gardens, which grows well here, is the "Common lilac," (Syringa vulgaris); a large bush, even in California, with a profusion of fragrant purple plumes. The white variety is taller and less bushy. Lilacs may be planted here in full sunshine or in partial shade, and will do best if grown where water can be withheld during the winter time, so that the bushes may have as much of a rest as possible.

Lilac bloom is past in California. But in New England the lilacs flower in May—it was annually a matter of anxious conjecture as to whether or not their bloom would last for Decoration Day. "Back home" in the village of my youth, and in every other New England hamlet and town, the lilacs are blooming in the dooryards. Tonight the young May moon shines down upon their lifted plumes, and the mild spring air is sweet with the perfume strong I love.

"Backward, turn backward, oh, time, in your flight"—and let me know once more the loveliness of a New England spring—in lilac-time.

Dahlia Planting

May is the most popular month for planting dahlias, though the tubers may be set as early as April and as late as June. If you are a novice in dahlia raising you will probably approach with some trepidation the momentous task of dividing the clump of tubers for replanting. Upon examining your clump, you will see that the tubers are attached to the main stem, from which they radiate. Where the root and stem join there is a swelling, known in dahlia parlance as the "crown." In some varieties the so-called "eyes" arise from the live portion of the old stem. In dividing the tubers, therefore, cut carefully to include a portion of the crown and stem. To simplify this, some growers wait until the buds begin to show before dividing. In any case, it is not wise to attempt to make too many divisions of the old clump.

You will, of course, have the ground prepared and ready for your dahlia planting. Dig it deeply, adding bone meal and well rotted manure. A rich, fairly light soil is preferable. Should your soil be naturally heavy, the addition of humus in some form—manure, or compost—will lighten it. Plant the tubers 4 to 6 inches deep (shallower planting for heavy soils) and about 2 feet apart. Lay the tuber on its side, almost flat. Just a slight tip upward at the stem end. Give a thorough watering and if all goes well they will not need any more water until the sprouts show above ground. Dahlias will need support and the best way is to set a redwood stake firmly in position by each tuber at the time of planting.

It is the usual custom to cultivate consistently, to a depth of a couple inches at first, more shallow cultivation as the plant grows, until the mature plant receives only a surface raking. The soil around the growing sprout should be kept moist and loose. Instead of cultivation for this some growers use a mulch of straw or peat.

Dahlia plants should not be allowed to become dry, but when you water, irrigate copiously until the ground is well saturated to a considerable depth. Dahlias appreciate generous feeding. Give an application of a good plant food when the plants are 8 to 10 inches high, and another when the buds begin to show.

Now as to the growth of the plant itself. To form a strong, bushy plant, pinch back when the stem is about six inches tall. This will make the plant throw out lateral growth. When the terminal buds appear, usually in three or five inches pinch off all but the strongest bud. Then pinch out the lateral branches starting from the two sets of leaves immediately below this terminal bud. This will give you long stems and large flowers.

If you grow dahlias of the large type for exhibition bloom the best place to grow them is in a section of the garden set apart for them. The smaller types, the enchanting miniatures, are quite at home in the flower borders.

I must confess to having no personal fondness for the large flowered dahlias, handsome as they are. But when I see the little pompons my heart gets all of a flutter. Their little quilled blooms are so pretty. And there is so little fuss about growing them. They make vigorous plants, bloom freely over a long, long season, keep beautifully when cut with stems—there's just everything to be said in favor of the pompon dahlia, and nothing against it, at least not by me.

The miniatures are very desirable also, remarkable for their keeping qualities when cut, and for their free blooming. There are marvelous colors, all the gorgeousness of the big blooms scaled down to a miniature size which makes them more graceful, and more acceptable for decoration.

The rage for the large flowered dahlia will die hard, but every year is showing an increasing interest and delight in the various smaller types of this good old garden standby—the dahlia.

Quick! While strawberries are so cheap

MAKE STRAWBERRY JAM THIS EASY WAY

"JUST THINK! WITH CERTO YOU GET HALF AGAIN MORE GLASSES OF JAM OR JELLY!"

AND SEE HOW EASY IT IS!

4 cups prepared fruit 7 cups sugar 3/4 bottle Certo

To prepare fruit, grind about 2 quarts fully ripe berries or crush completely, one layer at a time, so that each berry is reduced to a pulp. Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. To reduce foaming, 1/4 teaspoon butter may be added. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 3 minutes. Remove from fire and stir in Certo. Then stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Four quickly. Paraffin hot jam at once. Makes about 10 glasses (6 fluid ounces each).

MORE GLASSES, TOO!

Notice, too, how many glasses you get, from such a small quantity of fruit . . . all because of Certo. You'll agree that it is amazing!

With Certo you never boil jellies more than 1/2 minute . . . jams only a little longer. The juice has no chance to boil away . . . That's why you get so much more jam or jelly than by the old, long-boil way—actually half-again more!

AND FAR FINER FLAVOR!

That's why, too, you get much finer flavor . . . all the flavor of the fresh ripe fruit. There is none of that "boiled down" taste.

Certo, the pure fruit pectin that makes jelly making so easy, is a product of General Foods. Get it at any grocer's.

WHAT IS THE ANSWER TO BRISBANE'S SUGGESTION?

The Register received the following letter and is printing it herewith, because it seems to us to be worth while to call the attention of the readers to the idea emphasized in it.

Editor, Register:

What's the answer to Arthur Brisbane's insistent demand that the federal government cease issuing interest-bearing bonds and issue, instead, non-interest-bearing, but redeemable money?

I have never seen or heard the answer. What is it?

Why the loud silence on the subject? I'm no reckless inflationist—God forbid! Neither am I a baizer of the banker—God forbid that, too!

But if Brisbane hasn't the monetary mentality, the primary mathematics, the common sense of the question on his side, then I'm terribly mistaken.

J. P. Baumgartner.

The question that Mr. Baumgartner has asked has often been in our own mind. We know some hackneyed answers to it from those who oppose it.

The first is, of course, that the currency issued in lieu of or to purchase these bonds, would be "fiat" money. That is, this money would have nothing back of it but the word of the government.

But, in a sense, that is all that is back of most of our money. The gold is still in the treasury, but the gold represents but a small portion of the legal tender that circulates in this land.

Then, again, there would be as much back of this currency as there is now back of the bonds. And the one which is back of the currency would be in better financial condition, because there would be a relief from interest charges, and to that extent, the government would be better off.

When we speak of the "fiat" of government, we mean, the will of the government. This currency would be backed by the government, and, in the last analysis, that represents the entire wealth of the country.

Probably the only argument that could "hold any water" would be the one that it is a form of inflation, that would unduly raise the price of property.

If the millions in bonds were turned into money, on which the present holder of the bonds could receive no income, he would at once seek investment in property. And with the market bidding for property, the value of property would rise.

The amount of inflation that we have had to the present time has not resulted in increasing property values as was expected. Property values in spite of the condition which might force many new buyers into the market, would not perceptibly rise until there became a shortage of property on the market, of like character to that which was being bought.

It would be a long time, or at least there would have to be a tremendous amount of property purchased, before scarcity would likely produce a rise in prices.

It appears, by the experience through which we are passing, that scarcity has infinitely more to do with the raising of the price structure than the quantity of money or credit.

In fact, the government has worked both ways. It has inflated by decreasing the gold content of the dollar. It has created a scarcity by endeavoring to reduce the output of wheat, cotton and hogs.

Nature has rendered the government some assistance in this reduction program. The scarcity has produced a rise.

Other things, however, have risen but very slowly. In any case, while this inflation might be a serious matter, if a large amount of the bonds were purchased at once, it could be tested out. It would be a very fine way, it seems to us, for the government to regulate the degree of inflation that may be required at any one time in the country.

QUO VADIS, CALIFORNIA?

A few years ago our great state of California was ruled by high ideals. Civic righteousness was the condition toward which all citizens were aiming.

To be sure, there were many men in public office who did not measure up in full, but they measured up as well as the people out of office, because nobody measured up in full. And there was a constant effort to raise the standard.

By and large, we have had fine state, county and city government. All made mistakes, but in our free democracy criticism, correction and character were in the ascendancy.

We citizens have always been willing to work to pay our taxes to the end that we could have a good, clean government. In other words, we have always been willing to work to support ourselves, our families and our government.

We want them all to be honorable and true. Just a few years ago, in the light of all this, we would have laughed to scorn the idea that we would have ever again accepted income from "booze" to help run the state and pay officials or income from gambling on races. We would have considered preposterous any suggestion that there could be a serious proposition of raising money through a state lottery, whereby the state might aid by skinning the "sucker" and receiving a share of the "take."

But conditions have changed. We conduct horse-races and take part of the gambling winnings. We collect for the sale of "booze" in thousands of places. And now it is suggested seriously that we have a state lottery to help raise the needed money.

Some people think that we can all gamble ourselves rich. The idea is that each can start a chain-letter and through the dimes received from everybody else, we will all have all the money we need.

Wouldn't it be simply wonderful if, by all of us gambling, and giving the state the "rake-off" to support the government, we could become fabulously rich?

Why, it's wonderful just to think of it. And the strangest part of it seems to be that people are acting on the theory that it is true. Quo Vadis, California?

A FINE RECORD

An American has made another aviation record.

It happened when Amelia Earhart Putnam set her monoplane down at Newark airport, 14 hours, 23 minutes and 50 seconds after leaving the ground in a perilous takeoff at Mexico, D. F., completing the first non-stop flight from the capital of the Mexican republic to the metropolitan New York area.

This feat, in covering the distance of over 2700 miles without a stop, at an average speed of approximately 145 miles an hour, gives this outstanding aviatrix another "first" to add to her list of "firsts" which now numbers seven.

Already she was (1) the first woman to fly the Atlantic ocean, accomplishing this feat in 1928 with Wilmer Stultz and Lou Gordon; (2) the first woman to fly the Atlantic solo, from Harbor Grace to Culmore, Ireland, May 10, 1932; (3) the first flier of either sex to make two plane flights over the Atlantic; (4) the first flier to make the flight over 2408 miles of ocean from Honolulu to California, which was a recent accomplishment; (5) the first woman to receive a Federation Aeronautique international license; and (6) the first woman to set an altitude record.

The takeoff at the Mexican capital was no mean aviation feat in itself, as the airport lies at an altitude of 7500 feet and the rarefied air makes lifting a heavily-laden plane into the air no small task. Only one person previously had succeeded with such a heavy load.

Thus again the courage and training of an American flier has won the plaudits of the world.

The fact that Miss Earhart, as she is known professionally, relies on training, experience and careful preparation, rather than luck, is shown in her reply yesterday, after landing, to the query if she had carried a good luck charm. It was: "No, I'd rather have a good mechanic."

SHOULD BE TREATED AS SPIES

News dispatches from Chicago yesterday carried the story of a group of payroll bandits who operated in the guise of peace officers. They drove up to the scene of their crime in a car marked with police insignia and several were dressed in police uniforms.

Banditry is bad enough, but when criminals stoop to using the habiliments of guardians of the law in their efforts to seize for themselves the fruits of effort and labor of others, it is time for drastic action.

Criminals of this type are really at war with society. Certainly some of the rules which govern war should be applied.

It is bad enough for the criminal to dress in the garb of the ordinary person in the society with which he is at war. But for him to place himself in the regalia of the men who, in society, are set apart for the protection of the group against the very ones who are using this dress for their protection, is on a par with the spy found within the enemy's lines, in disguise.

While to bring these criminals before a firing squad as bandits and spies might in some cases be too drastic an action, certainly a more severe punishment should be meted out than is usually attached to the wrong of impersonating an officer.

Nearly Ready

Oakland Tribune

A record-breaking edition of the San Diego Union calls attention of State and country to the fact that the Exposition there is ready for the opening on May 29, and pictures in prose and photograph the beauties and novelties which will be seen. The San Diego newspaper and the many citizens who co-operated in the special edition express their confidence that the show is to bring many thousands of visitors to their city and California.

Not the "largest in the world" but a beautiful, admirably arranged exposition in which many States and some foreign nations will participate, the one which will open with the close of this month has much to offer the visitor. To the buildings in Balboa Park which were used on a former occasion have been added many new ones; exhibits have come from the far places, and there is a present assurance that the accomplishments and progress of the age will be accurately reflected.

The first of three expositions planned for California before the close of the decade is about to swing its gates open to the many. It has the satisfaction and encouragement which comes in the knowledge that it is a wide national interest. Californians, appreciating the many advantages of such a show to the State, will make it a point to attend.

Punjab Observes Jubilee

New York Times

King George's jubilee will be observed by one of the predatory tribes of the Punjab, on the Afghan border, in highly appropriate fashion. The chiefs have solemnly bound themselves to abstain from cattle-raiding for the entire year of celebration. This shows that the Punjab tribesmen have a correct idea of what a jubilee should be.

It is not at all likely that the British officials argued the Punjab hillmen into being good and not stealing any cattle. The tribesmen consider cattle-raiding a legitimate and even honorable occupation. They would no more think of abstaining on moral grounds than they would expect a carpenter or a stockbroker to give up their regular practices for a year in honor of the Emperor-King.

The British authorities in the Punjab probably used just the opposite argument. They refrained from the slightest slur on cattle-running as gainful employment, but pointed out to the chiefs the idea of the biblical jubilee. In the jubilee year the Palestinian farmer let his land lie idle and the business man allowed his contracts to lapse. The economic life of the country was suspended during the jubilee. That is what the Punjab highlanders have agreed to do.

More Truth Than Poetry

LIGHTNING-BUGS

I like to watch the lightning-bugs
That flutter here and there;
They seem to be Extremely free
From any form of care.
They dart and dive, they dip and soar,
They twinkle in the trees,
Sometimes in crowds,
Sometimes in clouds,
Again by two and threes.

You'll find them in the misty glen
And on the fields beyond;
When nights are warm
They often swarm
Above the sleeping pond.
They sometimes seem to be engaged
In some delightful game,
And flit about
And in and out,
Bright dots of living flame.

But never do they stay for long;
Too swiftly comes the day
When from the glen
And darkling fen
They vanish quite away.
In vain you'll seek them in the boughs
Or on the quiet lawn:
In vain you'll look
By swamp and brook—
They'll every one be gone.

HE CAN'T LOSE.

PARAGRAPHS

By Robert Quillen

When money talks, the usual answer is "Not Guilty." American cotton is pegged at 12 cents. Brazil's sells at 4½ cents. Wonder what kind of salt meat the Brazilian tenant eats. This will be remembered as the dam building era, but of course it may not be spelled that way.

You see, we must be ready in case we can't keep out of the next war. If we weren't ready, we'd have to keep out.

The Germans beat the world making synthetic substitutes. Look what they made a kaiser out of.

WHAT'S NEEDED MOST, IN THAT EVER-POPULAR RACE TO THE ALTAR, IS A SYSTEM FOR HANDICAPPING WIDOWS.

Horse and dog races give the sucker a better show. When he bet on other kinds of stock, he didn't even get to see it run. The New Deal magazine is called "Today." The Republicans will call their "Tomorrow." Huey's, we understand, will be called "Pay Day."

And yet, the awful official you now denounce would seem a great guy if you were making lots of money.

AMERICANISM: Rejoicing in freedom won from King George; giving greater power to machine-made judges who have less honor.

Norway and Sweden teach us that nations need no armament, provided they have nothing that anybody wants. But alas! the poor cotton tenant would be just as poor if he tried to be a doctor or lawyer or merchant.

War will end. Wait till airplanes prove that a little nation can almost wipe out a big one.

YOU CAN PICK OUT THE MEN WHO AREN'T BOSSSED BY THEIR WIVES. THEY NEED A SHAVE.

Of course war is more dreadful than it used to be, but what of it? Peace is, too.

A hick town is a place where they have a swell funeral because the neighbors would say catty things if they didn't. You can tell people who are quality in public and trash in private. Just compare their back yard with the front.

People don't like you? Well, there's a reason. You aren't so darned fond of people, are you?

CORRECT THIS SENTENCE: "I DON'T CARE IF YOU ARE A RELATIVE," SAID THE PUBLIC OFFICIAL: "I CAN'T GIVE YOU A JOB YOU AREN'T QUALIFIED TO HOLD."

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

UNIVERSITIES AND THE FIRING SQUAD

American universities are facing the firing squad of a trumped-up hysteria.

A local statesman demands that the Illinois legislature investigate the University of Chicago.

Columbia University finds a fit of critical accusation leveled at it. The College of the City of New York is galled by this and that organization.

The University of Wisconsin of which I am the executive head is subjected to a critical onslaught by a Senate committee after the Assembly of the legislature refused to join in the critical venture.

The picture in all these instances—and in still other instances I need not list—is much the same. The universities are, it is said by their accusers, making for communism, for irreligion and for laxity of conduct. Sometimes one of these charges, sometimes two, and sometimes all three enter into this or that local expression of this prevalent campaign of criticism.

In some instances the campaign is prompted solely by certain newspapers. In some instances local crusading organizations furnish the initiative and impetus for the campaign.

In some instances local political interests seek to capitalize this campaign.

In Wisconsin we went through all this in 1932 before the present general attack on universities took on such wide range.

Save in those instances where the onslaught is inspired by political or personal interests it is natural, I think, that in a time of vast social uncertainty real universities should have to be on the defensive. Universities are in part dedicated to the discovery of truth and, in a time of grave uncertainty when the traditional policies of our political and economic order are under strain, the instinct of many is to feel that the defense of what seems truth to them is the only venture that is allowable.

Tomorrow I shall take a look at what the real function of a university is, and I shall try to say what attitude the universities should take towards this current phase of critical attack.

EFFORT

"My boy get a 'C' in effort and a high mark for achievement. What's the good of the effort mark? A 'C' doesn't look good on a card especially when he gets high marks in other things. I wish you would tell the teacher not to put that 'C' on his card. It doesn't really mean anything." Oh, but it does. When a pupil gets a good mark in lessons and a lower mark in effort it means that he is not doing his best. He is not putting out any effort. He is not reaching up, is not using all his power for growth. When a child rests comfortably within his present state of being and goes just enough work to pass well enough to avoid displeasure, he is not growing as he should, or as he could. Growth comes through effort. There is great activity in the body and mind when growth is under way. Cells are broken down and new ones built, areas of power are extended and strengthened. There is waste and excitement and noise because of the activity. There is a struggle. Otherwise there is no great growth.

What happens when a child makes no effort? He stays pretty much on the same level, with a tendency to backslide. His body is inactive, his mind slumbers placidly and this mood soon becomes habitual. Instead of developing to the fullest he is content to ooze along on as low a level as he can go on and keep alive. That is why a teacher prods a pupil who makes no effort to advance.

It is true that some children cannot attain the ordinary grade level because they are defective or ill, but we are talking about children who get passing marks easily, who have latent power but who are content to stay as they are. Such children trouble teachers because a teacher knows that unless a child strains toward a goal he cannot make the heights. Effort is essential to an honorable career and teachers are concerned about sending out pupils bent upon achieving honor in their careers. That means that these pupils make a stern effort to reach the highest standards attainable.

Children who fail consistently to get even a passing mark are failing because they are inadequate.
